FIRE IN TRUCK RUINS CARGO OF FURNITURE

Driver and Companions Unaware of Flames Until Too Late

PHILLIES, RIDGE FIREMEN EXTINGUISH BLAZE QUICKLY

A truck hauling used furniture burst into flames on Route 100, Pughtown, yesterday at 6:15 p. m., causing $1000 damage to the vehicle and its cargo.

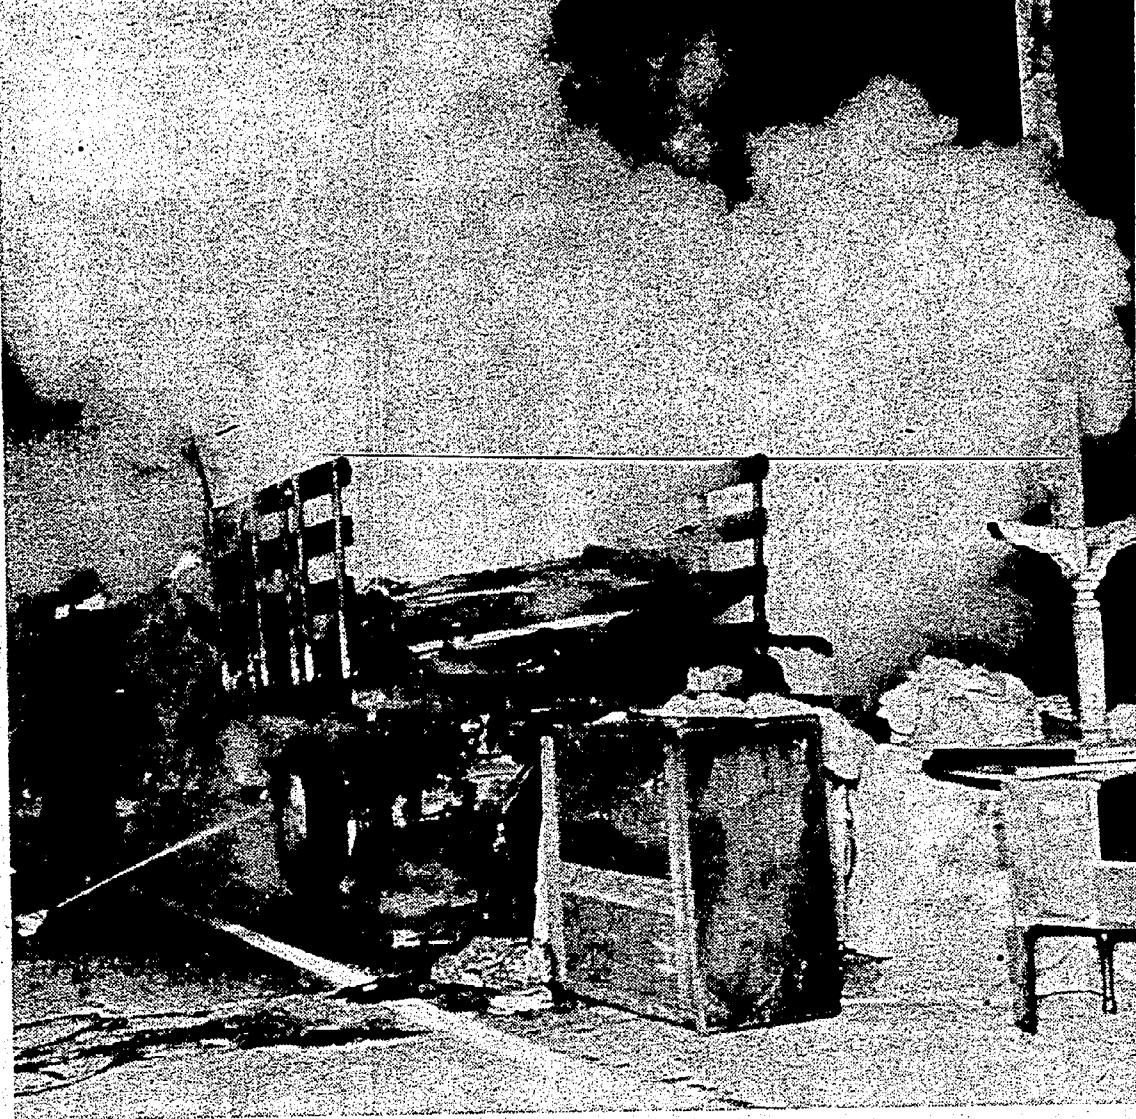

Harvey N. Levengood, Frederica, Del., owner of the truck, reported he and two other men in the cab were not aware of the fire until the flames were blazing fiercely.

Sitting in the cab with him when the blaze was discovered were his son, John, same address, and Bennett Taylor, Dover, Del.

The truck was carrying a load of furniture valued at $210 by Levengood from Reading to Frederica where he operates a used furniture store. About half of the cargo was destroyed.

Levengood trained a small fire extinguisher on the burning furniture but the flames spread to the wooden body of the one-ton, 1950 make truck.

DOG GUARDING OWNER'S BODY TURNS VICIOUS

Neighbors Find Pet Can't Be Managed After Mistress Dies

ELDERLY WIDOW 'PHONES FOR HELP BEFORE DEATH

A little black dog fiercely guarded the body of its elderly mistress early yesterday after she died while telephoning for aid from her home in Yerkes, just south of Collegeville.

Mrs. Patrick John Barry, a widow in her early 70's, died while sitting in a living room chair holding the telephone in her hand. She lived by herself in a small bungalow in Grandview park, Yerkes.

The little dog, a four-year-old black cocker spaniel, jumped onto the chair and barked and snapped at neighbors who went to the house at about midnight, after being notified by alert Bell Telephone.

Saleswoman of Half Century Finds Shoppers More Budget-Conscious

By BARRY R. NEMCOFF (Mercury Staff Writer)

Women shoppers 50 years ago were not so fussy and not so budget conscious as they are today.

This recollection came from 65-year-old Cora Mertz, 311 Chestnut street, who recently celebrated her 50th anniversary as saleswoman and buyer for the Ellis Mills store, 223 High street.

In elaborating on the buying habits of Pottstown women, half a century ago, when Miss Mertz started working at the store as a 15-year-old sales girl, she said:

"They could not afford to be fussy because the selection of merchandise was much smaller then. Take ladies' gloves, for instance—we only carried three colors—white, black and brown.

"As for being budget conscious, they didn't have to be—a dollar went a lot further in those days than it does today and everything a shopper bought was a necessity in those days."

SHE SPOKE of her own $16 a month starting salary "which was the standard wage" and could buy eggs at 12 cents a dozen, a bushel of potatoes for 25 cents and coal at $3 a ton.

Miss Mertz's long term of employment with the store also has allowed her to witness the unceasing parade of style changes in women's clothes which she described as "from ankle-length skirts, tight-fitting coats and large hats, at the turn of the century to above-the-knee hems the flappers wore during the 20's, followed by a series of ups and downs—in skirt lengths.

OPENING DAY SEES HUNTERS OUT IN FORCE

Find Game Is Plentiful Throughout Area; Some Bag Their Quota

HUNTING WELCOMED AFTER DROUGHT CAUSES DELAY

By ROBERT E. HOYER (Mercury Staff Writer)

Like the pom-pom-pom of a raging air-sea battle, the small game hunting season broke the early morning silence over Pottstown yesterday.

Battalions of hunters waded into the dewy brambles sharply at 7 o'clock to open the delayed hunting season. Beagles howled in the cool, wet November air and birds dogs pranced with expectant sniff.

Area nimrods banged out a history-making score against rabbit and pheasant in a wild display of pyrotechnics.

Over the state, thousands of hunters welcomed the order of Gov. John S. Fine which officially opened the small game season in Pennsylvania's 67 counties at 7 a. m.

Hunting was permitted in 16 northwestern counties this past Saturday. Arid fields and parched forest floors created the delay.

A steady Monday rain prompted the Governor to open the season throughout the state.

County Republicans Expected to Attend Inaugural in Force

Montgomery county Republicans are expected to attend in force the inauguration of President-Elect Dwight D. Eisenhower on Jan. 20.

Russell Knipe, Hatfield, personnel director of the county GOP committee, reported last night plans for the inaugural are under way and would be handled through the State Republican committee.

Lieut. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood, Evansburg, county chairman, will meet with H. Harvey Taylor, president pro-tem of the States Senate and chairman of the State committee, in Harrisburg Thursday to discuss the county's ticket allotment.

Knipe said all tickets would be handled through the regular Republican organization.

PERKIOMEN DAM TO BE OPPOSED ANEW BY GROUP

Hearing Scheduled Today Before Water Board In Harrisburg

Opposition to the construction of a huge dam and reservoir above Green Lane will be voiced by angry residents of the Upper Perkiomen valley today in Harrisburg.

Representatives of boroughs and townships of the area and the Friends of the Perkiomen organization will make their protests at the continued hearing on the water project before the State Water and Power Resources board.

The controversy over the construction of the dam gained impetus the past Jan. 12 when the State board authorized the Philadelphia Suburban Water company to draw an additional 16,500,000 gallons of water daily from the Perkiomen creek.

Residents of the Upper Perkiomen united against the company's application but lost the first round of the battle at the January hearing.

Men's Bible Classes Told — Use Strength For Leadership

Pottstown's Federation of Men's Bible classes was urged to realize its strength and use it for moral leadership by the guest speaker last night in First Baptist church.

"Know where you are going. Have an objective—and you will know that you have the moral strength to transform the lives of those you meet," the assembled classes were told by John A. Schlegel, Easton Sunday school teacher and treasurer of Lafayette college.

Schlegel continued, that faith is strong only when translated into action. He recommended that the Federation take two courses of action:

First, form a teachers' pool from which Sunday schools in need of teachers might draw.

Second, sponsor a "Bible convention" for young people, with prizes to be given to the best Bible students among the youth of the community.

Armistice Day Marked by Parade, Pupil's Plea for Peace Through UN

Pottstown pupils joined veterans office, High and Washington streets.

IN THE PARADE were a dozen uniformed veterans, carrying the colors and a wreath that was laid on the monument by James G. Sands. Behind them were the bands and drill teams of Pottstown Senior and Junior High schools, and the elementary schools' drill team.

Clarence H. Renoll, commander of George A. Amole Post 47, American Legion, who presided at the monument ceremonies, mentioned that Armistice Day marks the end of World War I on Nov. 11, 1918, and V-E and V-J Days, which brought World War II to a close. The memorial volley was fired by a squad captained by William Wagner.

Armistice Day ceremonies yesterday included a talk by Marshall Sager, Pottstown Junior High school pupil (top photo), and a parade down High street. ## Dr. Porter Improves Following Operation

Dr. J. Elmer Porter, veteran Pottstown political leader and physician, was reported in "satisfactory" condition in Jefferson hospital late last night after a hernia operation yesterday.

The former burgess, who for a number of years has been considered the borough's Mr. Democrat, entered the hospital on Monday.

He returned from the operating room late yesterday afternoon.

A daughter, Mary Porter, reported last night, "He came out of the operation quite well. We talked briefly with him. He seemed good when we left the hospital at 6:45."

Dr. Porter was admitted to Jefferson hospital this past February for observation.

Workers Pass Halfway Mark in United Fund

Secretary Says Drive May Be Extended To Meet Goal

The $198,860 goal of the Pottstown United Fund has passed the halfway mark as the drive enters its last week in the borough, it was announced yesterday.

At a meeting in the YMCA yesterday afternoon of 70 volunteer workers for the charity organization, tallies to date showed that the fund had raised $101,761 in cash and pledges since the drive began Oct. 27.

Executive secretary of the United Fund, Vinicio Fisher, stated, "Although there is a lot more hard work to be done in the next week, the fund has collected twice as much as was solicited the past year under the Community Chest."

He said the final meeting of the drive workers will be held at the YMCA at 7:15 p. m. Monday.

Borough to Set Three Speed Traps Within Ten Days

Three speed traps, authorized by council Monday night on West High, East High and North Charlotte streets.

Traps will be established on West High street, from Manatway street west to the borough line; on East High street, from Keim street east to the borough line, and on North Charlotte street, from Beech street north to the borough line.

THE ACTION was a result of heavy highway casualties in the Pottstown area, the death of Theodore R. Masser, Douglassville, in a fatal accident on West High street this past Oct. 30 and subsequent editorial demands by The Mercury for action on the issue.

Two wounded hunters were being treated in Pottstown's hospitals within two and a half hours after the small-game season opened yesterday morning. A third casualty happened in the afternoon.

An employee of the State's Eastern Game farm, near Schwenksville, 18-year-old Charles Leshar, Spring Mount, was hit by shotgun pellets in the left cheek, left arm and both legs yesterday morning.

Contractor Arrested For Illegal Driving

A Pottstown contractor was arrested and released under $500 bail yesterday for driving while his license was revoked.

Nicholas Yaculak, 830 South street, was arrested on Montgomery street by Chester T. Krupinski, Jeffersonville State police, at 4:30 p. m. A hearing was held for Yaculak immediately after the arrest before Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus, of the Seventh Ward.

Cadmus set bail at $500, which was posted by the defendant, pending Yaculak's appearance before Montgomery county court at the next session.

The trooper reported he arrested Yaculak when the contractor acted "suspiciously." Yaculak was driving a truck used in his business.

Yaculak's driver's license had been revoked early this year after he was found guilty of a drunken driving charge.

Burglars at Hotel Take Money Mostly, Plus Little Liquor

Burglars who broke into Riverside hotel, 205 South Hanover street, South Pottstown, showed more interest in cash than liquor.

Joseph Stewart, Hanover Heights, one of three brothers who operate the hotel, said $65 to $70 in bills and change was stolen from the drawer of the barroom's cash register. Only a few pennies were left.

But the thieves apparently took only two bottles, although one of them was expensive Scotch.

Two years ago, the barroom was burglarized by men who took 20 bottles of whisky but no money.

THE BREAK-IN was discovered at about 7:15 o'clock by Jack Reidmour, who lives at the hotel and who opened the barroom for Stewart. Stewart was away hunting (he got the limit of small game).

The burglars had pried the lock on a kitchen window, breaking the (Continued on Page Two)

Sample of Winter Chills Pottstown

Motorists got a sample of what Winter is like yesterday morning when they went to wipe their windshields before driving to work. It was not just a coating of frost on the glass of the cars, but hard ice.

With temperatures below freezing most of the night, puddles of water on lawns or in streets became cakes of ice yesterday morning.

Sunny and warmer weather is promised for today by the weatherman.

Attention Kids! You'd Better Be Good, With Santa Arriving Soon

Pottstown children can start sharpening pencils and scribbling their requests to Santa Claus because Nov. 23 they will have the opportunity to meet him in person.

Snow or no snow, Santa will arrive in Pottstown at 9:44 a. m. at the Reading station, not just for a whistle-stop, but to remain in the borough for the entire Christmas season to make sure that he can see all the children in the area and have their wishes whispered in his ear.

After greeting the children who meet him at the station, the royal visitor will go to Pottstown Senior High school where his troupe will put on a marionette show called, "Santa Claus Circus."

Admission to the show will be ticket only. These can be obtained free at the toy department of the New York store. Gifts will be given to all the children attended by Santa himself.

After the show at the high school, Santa will make his headquarters at the New York store's youth center on the second floor.

He warns Pottstown children that they had better be good or when he balances them on his knee at his headquarters, he may have to tell them that he is sorry that they cannot have any gifts this Christmas season.

against the building of the dam. They will make a formal protest to Montgomery county commissioners tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock "to alert them to the feelings of the residents of the Perkiomen Valley area."

J. Edward Fausner, chairman of the organization, stated the meeting is being arranged to ask the commissioners "to display a friendly attitude toward our civic unit, rather than the hostile attitude that has previously taken."

The Perkiomen residents have argued the dam would cause the re-routing of roads and flood farm and woodlands.

The water company has stated that construction of the dam is necessary to maintain the natural flow of water in the stream. The additional water which will be allocated to the company will be the normal flow from the stream, the State board stated at the January hearing.

The board also authorized that no water would be drawn from the stream by the company before it had completed the construction of the water barrier and installed accurate measuring devices to record the amount of flow into the reservoir at Green Lane.

Area Hunters Turn Out in Force

solid red and hunters clad in old clothes. Shiny new guns were brandished and old faithful weapons with the rust of many campaigns were hauled out of the attic for still another season.

Numerous nimrods reported home with perfect scores—four rabbits and two pheasants, the State limit. And some required only several hours to attain their scores.

A 12-year-old pupil at The Hill made his hunting companions hide behind their red caps.

Alexander Seldomridge, 1144 Queen street, outshot his father, J. Aldus Seldomridge, and his uncle Lee Seldomridge, Hanover Heights. He achieved the marksmanship display by stopping four rabbits and two birds with his single barrel 20-gauge weapon.

By 11 O'CLOCK yesterday morning he had three cottontails and two birds. His father using a 12-gauge pump gun got his limit, but had to work all day. His uncle nailed four rabbits.

The trio hunted in the Weaver-town section.

One of the fastest bags yesterday was reported by a man who's been hunting for 50 years, Albert J. Waddell, 1316 Cherry street.

By 9 o'clock, two hours after the season opened officially, Waddell was on his way home with two cockbirds and a rabbit.

Waddell, who's been hunting since he was nine years old, was out yesterday near Pottstown airport, Limerick. The first bird he bagged had been shot at, and missed by about 20 hunters. Waddell was hunting by himself.

JOSEPH G. JOHNS, 560 Prospect street, was back home at 9 o'clock with a pheasant and a rabbit he'd bagged in fields northwest of Ringing Hill. An employee of Firestone Tire and Rubber company he, too, was by himself.

For Donald Small, Perkiomenville RD, the hunting was almost too good.

An hour after the season opened, he'd bagged the limit—two birds and four rabbits. He was hunting on a farm near Perkiomenville. "Plentiful" was his understandable opinion of the game supply. "I could have shot ten rabbits," he added.

His day of hunting done at 8 o'clock, he tramped around for another hour with Herbert Rittenhouse, Spring Mount, who bagged a bird and three rabbits.

A Pottstown area hunter pulled what undoubtedly was the nearest trick of the hunting day: firing 19 shots without hitting a thing and then getting a rabbit when neither he nor his companion had a shell left between them.

Author of the trick was James Petrowicz, 216 West Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown, hunting near Greshville with Ronald Matlack, 35 East Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown.

Here's Matlack's account: They banded away for three hours. Matlack didn't do much better than Petrowicz, getting one pheasant out of the 17 shots he fired. "We sure did miss 'em," he recalled.

The two discouraged men were leaving the fields, all their ammunition exhausted except the one shell, which was in Petrowicz's gun.

Matlack saw a rabbit sitting in the brush. He kicked him up. Petrowicz taking more care than he had with his first 19 shots, fired. He hit the rabbit in the hind legs, but it kept moving away.

"I upped after it," Matlack said. "So did Jim." Mindful that this was indeed their last chance, they overtook the wounded rabbit. Matlack dispatched it with the butt of his gun. He awarded it to "Last Shot" Petrowicz.

RICHARD E. BLAIR, Pottstown's deputy game protector, who was patrolling yesterday, reported that there was plenty of game.

"I haven't seen anybody who didn't have anything at all," he asserted, "though they're doing a lot of missing."

He added that the hunters were law-abiding and that there seemed to be fewer of them than would have been expected on opening day. He attributed this to the postponement upsetting normal day-off-for-hunting plans.

Saturday, there probably will be a bigger turnout than there was yesterday.

He reminded area hunters of day and season limits: pheasants, two per day, eight per season; rabbits, four and 20; squirrels, five and 20.

Hunters of determination were William Mars, 820 High street, a borough patrolman; Samuel Hoffman, 24 East Main street, South Pottstown, and Richard "Shada" Hoffman, same address.

Two of the birds they shot were wounded but able to fly away and dig themselves into rock piles near Route 663 west of Ringing Hill. The three took after them and succeeded in finding them amidst the rocks.

All three hunters got the limit of two birds and four rabbits apiece.

A veteran nimrod finished a day in the fields with a rabbit and pheasant, George B. Ellis, 421 Jefferson avenue, marked up this score for his effort.

Ellis hunted with Lester Burdian on Burdian's Fazeleyville tract. Sharp-shooting Burdian nailed four rabbits and two birds. He didn't miss a single shot.

THE BRENDLINGERS, Curtis and Harlan, Pottstown RD 4, and Leroy, of Frederick, joined Allen Fry and Linwood Moyer, Frederick, on a successful hunting tour near Hickory park.

Curtis bagged three rabbits and one cock bird. Harlan shot two birds and a rabbit and Leroy settled for a ringneck and two cottontails.

Fry led the expedition with two pheasants and three rabbits and Moyer downed a pair of pheasants.

Barney Care, Douglassville, hunted with his 14-year-old son, Ronald, near Virginville, Berks county. Despite a number of misses they returned with seven rabbits and two ring-necks.

Howard G. "Sox" Seibold, a hunter of true aim, shot the limit in birds and rabbits.

His daughter, Doris, a member of the Pottstown bicentennial court, downed a bird and rolled a pair of rabbits. She hunted until 2 o'clock. Seibold had to walk all day to attain the limit.

SHELVIN RAYSON, 448 High street, filled his hunting bag in short order. By 10 o'clock, hunting on the farm of Russell Drumheller, Nantico, he had the limit in birds and rabbits.

A shooting companion, William Drumheller, Nantico, bagged a cottontail and ringneck.

Richard Trythall, Bucktown, hunting on his own grounds, felled a whizzing pheasant at 7:10 o'clock. He added a rabbit to his morning score and then nailed two squirrels in the afternoon.

His father, Gile Trythall, squeezed the trigger at the right time on two pheasants and a pair of rabbits.

ANTHONY ADAMSKI, Linfield, and Edward Piechota, a brother-in-law team, found hunting in the Pennsburg area a gratifying experience. Both men shot the limit by 2:30 p. m.

Wellington Harner, 119 Chestnut street, banged out an eight-animal

Joseph Donofrio Jr., 768 Beech street, four rabbits and two birds; George Donofrio, Douglassville RD 2, four rabbits and one bird; Herbert Donofrio, Douglassville RD 2, two birds, two rabbits and one squirrel, joined brother-in-law Lawrence Mauger Jr., two rabbits for a day of hunting on property owned by Herbert Donofrio along North Keim street.

Later the party tramped through the fields of George's Douglassville RD 2 property and then motored to Glenmore.

EUGENE ORLANDO, Pottstown RD 3, missed two ring-necks, but later pumped his way to the limit with his 20-gauge pump gun.

Richard Davidheiser, Pottstown RD 3, hunting with Orlando, on Ringing Hill stopped three cottontails. A 15-year-old pupil in the Ninth grade at the Junior High school, Davidheiser plugged his first rabbit at 7:01 a. m.

Herbert Hobbs, Manatowny street, who joined Davidheiser and Orlando, knows the anguish of a crooked gun barrel. He missed two birds and seven rabbits, but salvaged the day with one cottontail.

William Allen Shaner, 535 North Evans street, prowled through the fields with Joseph, James and John Ruyak, 857

North Evans street, in the Cold Springs park section. He bagged two pheasants, a rabbit and a raccoon.

Pottstown Man Hurt As Auto Hits Pole In East Greenville

A Mintzer street man was injured early this morning when the car in which he was a front seat passenger rambled out of control in East Greenville and sheared off a utility pole.

Alvin Williams, 21, of 710 Mintzer street, was admitted to Pottstown hospital at 2:30 o'clock this morning with undetermined injuries to his left arm and deep cuts of the face and chin.

He was rushed to the hospital along with Allen S. Walton, 21, of 624 Lincoln avenue, driver of the car and private in the Army stationed at Indiantown Gap.

The accident occurred shortly after 1 o'clock when the car traveling south on Main street, East Greenville, between Third and Fourth streets, cut across the street and knocked down a road sign and then clipped off the Pennsylvania Power and Light company pole.

VICTOR J. MOYER, East Greenville chief of police, reported, "the driver told us he fell asleep."

The entire front of the 1949 four-door sedan was crushed. Moyer estimated damage at between $400 and $500.

Williams was taken to the hospital in the Upper Perkiomen Valley ambulance manned by Stanley Snyder and Clarence Gary.

He received preliminary treatment in the office of Dr. Eugene E. Cleaver, East Greenville.

For Cabin in Woods

One of Pottstown's Boy Scout troops will slough off the comforts of town life Saturday in favor of a weekend in the woods.

The outdoor-minded group is Searles Memorial Methodist troop 7, which will leave Pottstown at 11 a. m. Saturday for two days of roughing it at Camp Delmont.

Scoutmaster Ray Stichter will be in charge of the Scouts as they become "nature boys" for the two-day outing.

The young woodsmen have rented a cabin known as "the White House" for the winter camping jaunt at the camp near Sunnyside.

Sunday morning the Scouts will be visited at Delmont by Homer E. Witman, Searles Sunday school teacher, who will hold an informal Sunday school class in the cabin.

At last night's meeting the troop had instruction in knot tying by Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Gerald Witman. Harry Dersh had charge of opening ceremonies and Jack Ellis closed the meeting.

American Legion Troop 1 will meet tonight for instruction in First Class requirements by Scoutmaster Walter Hutt. The meeting was postponed until Wednesday this week because of the Armistice Eve banquet Monday night in the Legion home.

TROOP 1's LEADERS and their wives will join 250 adult Scouters at the annual leadership meeting of the Continental district of the Valley Forge Boy Scout council tomorrow night. The meeting will be held in Friendship Fire hall, Royersford.

The troop committee of Troop 1 will meet Friday of next week. Charter renewal time starts Dec. 15 for the American Legion troop.

Trinity Reformed Troop 6 saw its new scoutmaster take over officially at this week's regular meeting. Merle Rambo, neighborhood committee member, visited the meeting and presented a certificate of office to Joseph Bobb, former assistant scoutmaster, who was recently promoted to command of the troop.

Donald Bleim opened the meeting by leading the salute to the flag and the Scout Oath.

Short patrol meetings were held with Lee Calen and Donald Bleim, leaders, in charge of their groups.

The troop reassembled after patrol meetings to work on their project for the Lion's club. The Scouts folded and placed in envelopes about 1000 circulars announcing collections of funds for the blind.

Habeas Corpus Hearing Is Continued by Judge

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11 (AP)—US District Judge William H. Kirkpatrick today continued until Nov. 21 a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus for Ollie Carey, convicted of murdering an Abington policeman.

Carey was found guilty by a Norristown jury on Feb. 10, 1950 on a charge of killing Thomas J. Mathews when he was cornered by police in a woods after a robbery.

Carey appealed to the Federal court on grounds that his Constitutional rights were violated because his court-appointed attorney did not properly represent him.

APPLICATION MADE

LEWISBURG, Nov. 11 (AP)—The application for parole of Alger Hiss was listed tonight for a closed session hearing, possibly tomorrow, at the Northeastern Federal penitentiary here as one of a number of parole hearings that may continue for several days.

Where You Spent $1648

Do you know what happened to $1648 of your money last year?

If your family is an average one, with four members, that much of its income went for taxes, Federal, state and local. Things are getting worse instead of better. The total tax take of government in 1951 was $63, 600,000,000. This year the combined total will be around $80,000,000,000.

Taxes now account for at least 30 percent of the whole national income—which means that one-third of our working time is spent to support government, not ourselves and our families.

A very large part of the cost of everything we buy—from so small an item as a loaf of bread to so large an one as a new car —is represented by taxes.

It's literally true that you can't walk a block without kicking in to the tax collector—at least, you'll cause some wear on your shoes and when you have to replace them taxes will enter in to what you must pay for the new pair!

The theory that taxes needn't worry most of us, for the reason that the bill can be paid by the rich, was blown sky-high long ago.
The rich are taxed to the point of confiscation now, and if we took a cool 100 percent of their earnings it wouldn't carry government for more than a few weeks out of the year.

The people of small and moderate means must do the great bulk of the paying.
These are facts—not theories. It's no wonder, then, that the little man voted for a change in national administration. He is hoping for tax relief. It may be slow coming, because the 1953 budget will be made up before the new administration goes into office, but there are high hopes that the tax burden may be lightened.

Good Buy

It goes without saying that farm machinery has caused a quiet but thorough agricultural revolution over the last few decades.

Once it took 85 percent of our working force just to produce our food and fiber—today the figure is about 15 percent.

Mechanization—the application of all manner of machines to tasks that were once done slowly and laboriously by muscle-power —is largely responsible. And, as an added dividend, the machine has eliminated endless drudgery and brought far higher living standards to the farm family.

Moreover—and despite widely-held misconceptions to the contrary—the cost of those machines to the farmer who buys them has risen very moderately in the light of the changes that have taken place in other costs and prices.

As of a recent date, for instance, farm wages were 232.2 percent higher than in 1939. The value of farm products was 217.4 percent higher.

The price of all commodities in general—the many things the farmer and the rest of us buy—was a trifle more than 137 percent higher.

But farm machinery cost only 70 percent more than in 1939—and the machinery of today is better and faster than that of the past.

That fact brings up some other interesting comparisons. The farm machinery maker gets 70 percent more for what he sells. At the same time, wages in tractor factories have gone up almost twice as much—138.6 percent.

Socialism Is Inefficient

CAN government run a business more efficiently than private enterprise?

Colonel Sidney Bingham, chairman of New York City's board of transportation and a recognized authority in his field, doesn't think so. He put the situation in these words:

"The pressure upon private management in a competitive system, and the rewards, bring forth that maximum effort that has produced our best industrial development.
Similar incentives for progress and change rarely exist in a government enterprise."

Colonel Bingham knows whereof he speaks.

At the present time New York City is negotiating with private companies to buy its municipally-owned bus lines for the reason that they are running far in the red, while business-managed lines charging the same fare make both ends meet.

Still another interesting light on government ownership is found in the fact that city-generated electricity to run the subways costs New York 1.42 cents per kilowatt hour, as compared with 1.1 cents the city paid a private company for power.

The whole history of government in business has been one of waste, extravagance, inflated payrolls, and political mismanagement. That is always true of a socialist economy.

Town Needs Help on Juvenile Problems

Calls for Help

To the Editor: Now that a leading county official on juvenile problems has said bluntly that Pottstown police and their burges-commander have not co-operated in the county's attempts to clean up Pottstown, isn't it high time horough officials ask the county or State, or both, to step in?

I don't know just how bad the juvenile delinquency problem is in Pottstown, but it is obvious that boys and girls roam the streets late at night, get into trouble and wind up at hearings, something is wrong.

When the burges refuses to act against youths from so-called well-placed families, but is rough on those from the poorer sections of town, it is even more obvious that Pottstown must have help from outside.

I fell sure Mr. (Peter J.) Frascino knows what he's talking about when he cities chapter and verse on Pottstown delinquency and official inaction.

The thing is now, just what are we going to do about it?

WASHINGTON Election of Ike Means States To Be Friendlier

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—President-elect Eisenhower's great and acknowledged debt to Republican and Democratic Governors for his nomination and election promises a friendlier and more co-operative relationship between Washington and the states than has existed during the 20 years of Roosevelt-Truman rule. It may end the era under which local and regional units of government abdicated their responsibilities by passing the buck to Uncle Sam.

In the last analysis, the convention struggle between General Eisenhower and Senator Taft was a battle between state politicians and the so-called "Federal crowd," which supported the Ohioan. The nominee's principal advisers numbered Governors Dewey of New York, Adams of New Hampshire, Driscoll of New Jersey, Thornton of Colorado and numerous other state executives.

Among his southern supporters were Governors Byrnes of South Carolina, Kennon of Louisiana and Shivers of Texas. Several others were sympathetic, even though they did not bolt their party.

The television windup and roundup, in which GOP Governors testified to their personal and political faith in Eisenhower, was one of the most impressive and effective demonstrations of the campaign.

The idea, was inspired by Driscoll of New Jersey, and was eagerly accepted by the candidate. There is no doubt that it helped to check any last-minute stampede to Governor Stevenson.

DECENTRALIZATION: As a result of General Eisenhower's personally conducted landslide, the GOP now controls more state capitals, including state legislatures, than ever in modern political history. In view of the Dixie leaders' friendly and sympathetic attitude to the Eisenhower philosophy, there has rarely been this kind of unity.

This happy situation offers the next President an excellent field and opportunity for the decentralization of Federal power which he advocated in numerous campaign speeches.

Despite the Roosevelt-Truman belief in all-powerful, centralized authority at Washington, an underlying factor abetting them was the states' abdication of their responsibilities in almost every field.

With few exceptions, they were only too willing to accept Federal funds and regimentation, even though the price was the loss of control at the local level.

Many a Governor accepted membership in the "gimmie group," that traded state sovereignty for Federal subsidies.
Had the trend continued, the states would have become mere vassals of the White House.

REGIONAL PROBLEMS: The incoming President has declared his belief in the strengthening of the states' authority and jurisdiction. On such questions as Civil Rights, oil tidelands, power development and the handling of funds for health, housing and education, he has insisted that these are local and regional rather than Federal problems. Only when they prove insoluble because of their complexity should they be dumped on Congress or the White House, in his opinion.

On the other hand, the states must raise the standards of their own legislative bodies—a long needed reform. Many legislatures sit only every two years, and then only for a few months.

They enact laws without any serious consideration, and indulge in log-rolling.
The pay is so poor that it does not attract capable men and women. They have no permanent research staffs or facilities.

To a military man like Eisenhower, it is as if regimental commanders neglected their field duties in the expectation that the big brass at some far-off headquarters would win all the battles.

Hypocrisy Charged

To the Editor: That was a mighty pretty speech the headmaster of The Hill school made to the United Fund workers.

Mr. (Edward T.) Hall spoke elo-quently about the need of giving generously, and especially about the close ties between The Hill and the borough, all about how The Hill people consider themselves citizens of Pottstown, etc., etc., etc.

When it came to a matter of dollars and cents, though, The Hill wasn't much interested in Pottstown.

I'm referring to the tax case, when that wealthy, exclusive private school fought through the courts of Pennsyl-vani against paying the borough for services rendered and obligations long owed.

No, Mr. Hall, we citizens of Pottstown won't forget The Hill tax case for a long time, and we won't be fooled by sweet talk about the need for giving, or anything else.

When The Hill school shows a genuine interest in the borough and is willing to contribute its share to the town, for the many services the town renders, then we'll believe the school officials are showing good faith.
Pottstown R.S.

Don't Gloat

To the Editor: The Republican Party should not gloat over its splendid victory, but should accept it as a challenge to put the Government house in order through honesty in government, an honorable peace program, and sound fiscal policies.

Party leaders should not be misled by selfish pressure groups represented by bureaucrats in government who seek to perpetuate themselves, nor by selfish labor leaders who would wreck the industrial economy to gain their ends;
nor by starry-eyed social do-gooders who would upset our social order by demanding Utopias in a world not ready to accept their unproven theories—nor by any other pressure group that puts its interest above true, honest Americanism.

During the past 20 years too many laws have been slanted inward favoring selfish interest pressure groups without consideration to the rest of the economy.

The job the Republicans have ahead of them will not be easy. It will require the earnest support of all good citizens to be successful.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

MARY P., 16, has very religious parents.

"They make me go to church three or four times per week," she said, "and are opposed to dancing, card playing and many other things that my high school classmates enjoy."

"They are very good to me otherwise, however, and practice their religion, but the church has so many old-fashioned rules and regulations that I don't know what to believe."

"Dr. Crane, can't the church fall far behind the times and be out of touch with current problems?"

The moral statements of Jesus are not old-fashioned nor out of touch with reality. Jesus is as up-to-date as this newspaper.

But thousands of "interpreters" of Christ's views have added their own human opinions during the intervening 19 centuries.

They have thus often cluttered up the issue of real morality with many trivial injunctions.

SOME OF THE latter were possibly logical at one time or another in human history, but some never did make sense, as when the clerics opposed the use of anesthesia in surgery.

But times do change. Thus, church ritual may contain rules that are just as far behind today's problems as many of our state laws, where we still have statutes to the effect that no automobile shall use the roads unless a man walks along in front of it with a lantern!

This adolescent stage of thinking does not detract from any logical remarks that he made nor reduce the respect that we should accord him for his courageous missionary work.

IT DOES show, however, that he was subject to typical human errors and emotional complexes.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 11 — Martin

1423 Chest X-Rays By Welfare Society Help TB Campaign

Pottstown Family Welfare society assisted with 1423 chest X-rays during the recent Tuberculosis prevention campaign, March 10. B. Shoemaker, secretary, revealed at the society's meeting in the Kulp building, High and Hanover streets, last night.

Of the total, 497 X-rays were taken at the Junior High school, 466 at The Hill school and 460 at the YMCA.

The society made 103 calls and held 111 office interviews during the past month, according to Miss Shoemaker.

Seventy cases were handled during October, with seven families showing a past or present history of tuberculosis.

MISS SHOEMAKER said that 17 orders for groceries were given out to nine families. Two hundred twenty and one-half quarts of milk and two and one-half tons of coal also were distributed.

The society gave out 129 units of clothing last month from the office and purchased some new articles. One family was assisted medically.

Other activities included conferences on family situations, one trip to an out-of-town hospital with a patient and three investigations of children reported abused.

The society began its Christmas seal campaign the past month with the help of Mabel Christman, Mrs. David Todd Jones, Mrs. J. B. Lessig, Mrs. Jared Evans and Mrs. Arthur H. Simpson. Four Girl Scouts assisted the workers.

President Horace Y. Seidel presided at last night's meeting. Others who attended were Horace Frederick, Robert A. Ferree Jr., Robert Y. Kurtz, Stanley Mauger and John R. Orr.

Mrs. Irma Miller, the meeting began with a song service led by Russell Cannell. Edward Y. Good welcomed the members and Leon K. Hausman read the Scripture lesson.

"THE STRANGER OF GALLILEE," a local solo, was presented by the Rev. Laurence T. Beers, pastor of First Baptist. Roscoe Shinehouse introduced the principal speaker.

President Carter presided at the business session.

The Federation's December meeting will be held in Transfiguration Lutheran church. The guest speaker next month will be Dr. Gilbert L. Guffin, Philadelphia, president of Eastern Baptist seminary.

BIBLE CLASSES —

Mrs. Barry's maiden name was Katharine McGaffigan. She and her husband had lived in Grandview park, then moved to Limerick, where they operated a small luncheonette.

After his death in 1950, at the age of 72, Mrs. Barry moved back to Grandview park.

Her body was released to a funeral home at 21 Main street, Trappe. Funeral arrangements were incomplete last night, pending the son's arrival.

THE OPERATORS called the Jacksons and also the nearest available physician, Dr. LeVerne Junker, Limerick, who reached the bungalow in a few minutes.

Mrs. Jackson said that when she and her husband first entered the bungalow, the black dog was manageable, but after the people in the room realized that Mrs. Barry was dead, the dog jumped onto the chair and became almost vicious.

Dr. Junker pronounced Mrs. Barry dead. He said indications were that she had died of a heart attack.

TRUCK FIRE —

in the cab discovered the fire before it had got a good start was that mattresses were piled up in back of the cab window so their views were obstructed. He said none of the men in the cab was smoking so the fire could not have been caused by their losing a cigarette or match out of the window.

South Coventry Police Chief Robert F. Conway, who was one of the first persons at the scene of the fire, said it probably was caused by a cigarette which landed in the mattress. He said although the men riding in the truck were not smoking, a passing motorist inadvertently could have tossed it into the truck.

Levensgood reported the furniture was not covered by insurance but that the truck was insured for $1000.

Truck Firm to Police Its Turnpike Drivers

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Baltimore and Pittsburgh Motor Express company is going to police its own drivers on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

President Howard Miller said a station wagon equipped with two-way radio will begin touring the Turnpike tomorrow to observe the company's 200 trailer trucks.

Miller said the idea is the firm's answer to the Turnpike commission's request that truckers take steps to control operations and reduce mishaps.

DEVOTED DOG —

company operators.

Before she died, Mrs. Barry had been able to pick up the telephone, call for help and gasp out two more words, "Jones" and "Jackson."

The operators decided the names were those of neighbors. They were: Adrian Jones and Edward Jackson.

THE OPERATORS called the Jacksons and also the nearest available physician, Dr. LeVerne Junker, Limerick, who reached the bungalow in a few minutes.

Mrs. Jackson said that when she and her husband first entered the bungalow, the black dog was manageable, but after the people in the room realized that Mrs. Barry was dead, the dog jumped onto the chair and became almost vicious.

Dr. Junker pronounced Mrs. Barry dead. He said indications were that she had died of a heart attack.

The black dog finally was removed by another neighbor, Paul Landes, who donned blankets and got a blanket to throw over the dog. Landes was assisted by Jackson. Landes was nipped slightly during the operation.

A 2-year-old dog, a blond cocker spaniel, also was in the room, but never reached the unmanageable point that the older dog did.

THE OPERATORS were unable to telephone the Joneses because their phone was on the same line as Mrs. Barry's, which was made "open" by her holding onto the phone after she died.

Both dogs were locked into another room yesterday. A son, John Barry, with the Navy at Norfolk, Va., who was contacted by Mrs. Jackson, said he thought his two children would like the younger, blond dog as a pet.

Nobody wanted the unmanageable older dog, the neighbors reported. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, contacted by neighbors, said it did not now have jurisdiction in the case.

Mrs. Barry's maiden name was Katharine McGaffigan. She and her husband had lived in Grandview park, then moved to Limerick, where they operated a small luncheonette.

After his death in 1950, at the age of 72, Mrs. Barry moved back to Grandview park.

Her body was released to a funeral home at 21 Main street, Trappe. Funeral arrangements were incomplete last night, pending the son's arrival.

UNITED FUND —

Final reports are due at that date, he said, but with the greater scope of the fund as compared with the Community Chest it is probable that the drive this year may be extended for a few days.

MANY OF the teams in industries in the Pottstown area have enrolled close to 100 percent of the groups they were assigned to solicit, according to Fisher.

Some of the organizations and firms with a high percentage of members or employees contributing were: Memorial hospital employees, 100 percent; Bethlehem Steel company, 100 percent; Pottstown school district teachers, 100 percent; Bell Telephone company, 98 percent; welfare team (employees of the YMCA, Salvation Army and the Visiting Nurses organization), 87 percent; and Sanders and Thomas Engineering company, 95 percent.

Firestone Tire and Rubber company pledged $20,000 to the fund from its employees and from the company. It has raised $18,000 so far.

The professional team, composed of physicians and dentists, has solicited almost all of its $5000 goal.

Fisher said the campaign was waged in the borough's schools for the first year of the fund's drive "not to raise money but to get the school children to appreciate the value of giving."

HE SAID Junior and Senior High school pupils were not allowed to donate more than 25 cents and elementary school pupils were limited to 10 cents.

"It is commendable to note that $554 has been collected from the school children, more than an average of 10 cents per student in Pottstown," he said.

Prizes were given to the workers for the drive for superior efforts in waging its campaign.

Those receiving prizes and the teams they represented were Mrs. A. Emery Lord and Mrs. S. Russell Ash, professional team; Mrs. Ruth Ecker, North Coventry district team; Mrs. George M. Weber, Sixth Ward team chairman; Jack O'Brien, automotive team; Howard E. Fosholt, school team; and George Lessig, newspaper and printing team.

War Must End, Post Won't Recognize Holiday

LEWISTON, Me., Nov. 11 (AP)—The Normand Dionne post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, refuses to recognize Armistice Day until the fighting in Korea is over.

Comdr. David C. O'Connell said the post had a token unit in today's parade only because it was ordered to do so by national VFW headquarters. It has voted not to observe the holiday until the war in Korea ends, he said.

2 Hill People Are Held In Slaying of Hunters

GOSHEN, N. Y., Nov. 11 (AP)—Two hill people, sure-footed natives of the wild Ramapo mountains, were held as material witnesses today in the Oct. 25 slaying of two hunters.

The two are cousins, Kenneth Conklin, 33, and Wilbur Conklin, 32. Their ancestors settled in the Ramapos—almost within sight of Manhattan's skyscrapers 25 miles away—before the Revolutionary War.

They were held in bail of $10,000 each. Orange county District Attorney Abraham Isseks said both admitted they were in the woods on the day of the double slaying.

SALESWOMAN —

As the store's oldest employee on record, Miss Mertz prides herself on having served with four generations of Mills, starting with Ellis Mills, the founder, who died in 1916 and whom she referred to as a "wonderful man" to the present operator of the store, William E. Mills Jr.

"I have also waited on four generations of many families," she said.

Of her many reminiscences, she said the one that remained most vivid in her mind was the time "a bull ran into the store about 40 years ago."

COMMUNISM KEY ISSUE OF ELECTION, FARLEY SAYS

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Former Postmaster General James A. Farley said tonight the Democrats were defeated in the past week's election because of three outstanding issues: "Communism, the Korean war, and the economic issue."

Farley, in a television discussion, said "Communism was more important than all, even more important than the Korean issue."

The voters, he said, "cast their ballots for Gen. Eisenhower and not against the Democratic party."

SPEED TRAPS —

will require three men. An officer on a phone will be posted at each end of a measured stretch, not less than one-eighth of a mile in length. Each officer will carry a stop watch. A third patrolman will be required to stop offending motorists.

The telephones and wiring equipment are portable. They can be rolled into a coil and carried in a suitcase to any of three designated traps.

Strange said wooden signs which warn motorists of the speed trap in operation will be approximately 5 by 6 feet. He said some of the entrance signs at the borough's edge may be converted into speed trap signs.

He reported that he discharged his shotgun accidentally while going through a briar patch in Lower Pottsgrove township. Schock is an employee of Firestone Tire and Rubber company.

The third casualty was Joseph J. Folweiler, 26, Pottstown. He was struck in the back and left arm by shotgun pellets, but not hurt seriously.

The ceremonies were marred several times by the horseplay of small children, who were in the crowd of less than 200 watching the ceremonies. Ironically, the loudest interruption was caused by a little boy who stumbled into a metal recruiting sign standing outside the postoffice.

IN HIS TALK, Sager traced the evolution of the United Nations, from the Atlantic Charter to the San Francisco conference. In outlining the UN accomplishments, he stressed the work done to help children throughout the world.

He also said: "Armies of one country considered the armies of other countries a threat, but mankind realized that since war is of international approval a contract signed by concern, it would have to be an international organizations that commission granting right of way would have to settle disputes before a highway across tribal lands, between sovereign countries."

Royersford-Spring City

Third Avenue and Main Street, Royersford Phone 158

Businessmen Plan Banquet for Band

Hearing a report that nobody had agreed to sponsor a banquet for Royersford high school band this year, members of Royersford Business Men's association agreed to promote the affair at the monthly meeting last night in Black's restaurant.

President Lester Horning named a committee with John Hedrick as chairman to form plans for the banquet to take place the second week in December. It will include a banquet and dance at Spring-Ford Country club for the band and cheer leaders. Other members of the committee are Harold Savage, Lewis Phillips and Erick Swenson.

It was suggested that next year the band and football squad should be feted together.

Members of the retail group discussed having stores open nights before Christmas. On motion, all were asked to start Wednesday night, Dec. 10 and remain open every night until Christmas.

Progress was reported on Christmas street lighting, with the businessmen's association and borough council sharing expenses. The borough will string lights at intersections from Second to Fifth avenue and the businessmen will have cross streamers erected between Third and Fifth avenues. Warren Horning, a local electrical contractor, has started erecting the lights, which are to be turned on Nov. 27.

Air Defense Importance Is Stressed by Doolittle

TYLER, Tex., Nov. 11 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle said tonight the United States must have the best air defense that science can devise to counter possible Soviet attack—but cautioned even that won't stop some bombers reaching American cities.

Jail Cell Is Wrecked; Jailer Now Believes

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., Nov. 11 (AP)—To look at Mrs. Lotilla Duke's 106 pounds you'd never guess she was a jail wrecker.

Joe Rao didn't think so either when she came to his San Mateo county jail last night on a drunk charge, although she brought a reputation along with her.

Today he believes. Jailer Rao said this is what the little woman did to her cell before he handcuffed her to the bars:

Flooded the cell with three inches of water, ripped the washbowl from the wall, tore up her mattress, plugged the plumbing system, smashed light globes, ripped asbestos from pipes and had almost torn the hunk from the wall.

Rao said the 42-year-old woman was charged $165 for damage to Palo Alto city jail the past week and owes Fresno $150 for cell repairs there.

Pottstown Portraits

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By IRV ROLLMAN and BARRY NEMCOFF

MOTORISTS who can't grab a parking space downtown on a busy shopping day can appreciate the problem confronting Carl J. Keiser, 1005 North Charlotte street, who has been working hard at getting the borough officials and merchants as well as Pottstown citizens to recognize the acuteness of the parking situation and to do something about it.

Carl J. Keiser

Keiser has no authority to do anything by himself about alleviating the congestion created by the parking conditions in the shopping area. He has, therefore, had to confine his activities in working with the problem to keeping the local merchants' organizations aware of the situation so that the problem does not die from forgetfulness.

Keiser points out the borough lacks off-street parking facilities. There is a big need for parking lots, he explains, so that long-time parkers can use parking lots, giving the short-time parker the benefit of using space at the curb. The need is acute for such parking facilities, he says, and everybody suffers from the lack of parking space.

"When you get a bad parking situation," Keiser says, "shopping centers tend to turn up on the outskirts of the town, thereby creating a loss for the town."

In such cases, the center-city properties tend to devalue and everybody suffers. It is a problem for everyone and needs the support of everyone to create parking facilities which will solve it.

Keiser was born in Linfield in 1905. He celebrates his 47th birthday Friday. He attended school in Linfield until he was 8 years old, at which time his parents moved to Pottstown where Carl's father opened a restaurant on North Washington street, just south of the site now occupied by his son's electrical appliance store. Keiser then entered school in Pottstown and was graduated from Pottstown High school in 1923.

For a year after graduation, Keiser worked as a salesman in a radio shop operated by Jacob Fegely. In 1924 he was taken into an automobile agency run by his brothers, Sam and Earl, and he worked as an auto salesman until the beginning of World War II.

At the war's start Keiser took a job at Jacobs Aircraft Engine company. He worked there until V-E Day and then took a job as buyer for a Philadelphia construction and electrical engineering firm which remodeled the Jacobs plant for Firestone.

Keiser recently was nominated for the chairmanship of the Mercantile bureau. He also has served as chairman of the Minute Men and was chairman of the local Red Cross chapter for two years. For the past 25 years Keiser has been a member of the Elks. He is a member of the Stichter lodge, Masons, the Reading consistory, and the Shrine.

When he can get away from everything, Keiser likes to climb into the cockpit of a light airplane and fly over the area. He has a private pilot's license which allows him to take passengers along on flights.

Two other hobbies are dry fly fishing for trout and motion picture photography. As a motion picture fan, Keiser has shot footage of Pottstown Soap Box derbies and has exhibited his films at the local service clubs to help stimulate promotion of the affair.

IF THERE WERE 14 DAYS TO A WEEK instead of just seven, the Rev. Delaine E. Story, director of public relations at the Firestone Tire and Rubber company plant, still would find it difficult to eke out enough time for relaxation from the daily projects that invade his waking hours.

Therefore it's with good cause that he says, "I'm always short on time and have to do a lot of squeezing."

This statement by the Rev. Story should not be misconstrued as a complaint. It is only a statement of fact, because there are so many things he likes to do, both at work and outside of work, and so little time in which to do them.

A glimpse into the Rev. Story's schedule for the week would reveal that while at his office he is busy with a threefold job of directing employee activities at Firestone, gathering material for company's monthly magazine which he edits, and handling all of the plant's publicity releases.

His evenings are spent supervising the two bowling leagues which are the result of his employee's activities work, attending cub and boy scout meetings sponsored by Firestone, and taking a course in public relations at Temple university, Philadelphia, on Thursday nights.

What does the Rev. Story do on Sundays? "I go out on speaking engagements or act as guest teacher at various Sunday schools," he answers.

In describing his work, he said he enjoyed its "double-barreled" characteristic, one aspect of which is dealing with the employees while the other calls for contact with the public.

His favorite project, he said, was the company's annual Christmas party for the employees' children.

"We begin planning for it in June, and buy the toys in July—2600 of them," he said. "Then we have to arrange for a place, for the entertainment and wrap the gifts. It's a pretty big job."

The Rev. Story elaborated on another of his projects—"the garden program," he called it. This is another phase of employee activities sponsored by Firestone whereby they are provided with plots of ground, already ploughed and seeded, and all they have to do is plant and tend individual gardens.

"We had 169 of them last summer," he smiled.

The Rev. Story has been with Firestone for the past 18 months. Previously, he was pastor of the First Baptist church from 1935 to 1951. At the time he joined the local plant it was only as director of employee activities and has picked up his other responsibilities since.

Born at Ft. Riley, Kansas, where he spent his boyhood on his father's farm, he still reminisces about "watching the cattle herd while they grazed on summer afternoons."

Following public schooling in Kansas, he went to Chester, Pa., where he began to study for the ministry in 1921 at the Crozer Theological Seminary, graduating from there in 1925.

Three years at Bucknell university came next with the receipt of a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1928 and his first pastorate in 1929 at the Wayland Memorial Baptist church in Philadelphia, which he held until the time he came to Pottstown.

While pastor of the Philadelphia church, the Rev. Story returned to the seminary for graduate work which led to a Master of Theology degree. He also completed approximately 34 of the work required for a doctorate by attending classes at the University of Pennsylvania.

From 1944 to the termination of his pastorate in Pottstown, he taught religion and the cults at the Baptist Institute of Philadelphia.

When asked if he was making any arrangements for a little more time to himself, the Rev. Story replied, "I've been asked to teach a course in human relations one evening a week at the High school—I've got to find time for that first."

Junior Optimist Clubs Are Given Charters; Officers Installed

Five new Junior Optimist clubs were given charters and officers were installed into the organizations last night at the Pottstown YMCA.

Bringing the total of clubs for boys within the Optimist club to seven were the Pioneers, Woodcutters, Indians, Crafters and Stamp clubs. The other two clubs sponsored by the Optimists are the Harmonica and Camera clubs.

Installing the officers and presenting the new organizations with their charters was E. R. J. Diven, lieutenant governor of the Optimist club second district.

Sponsor of the Pioneers club is Ivan A. Bortner Jr., senior Optimist member. Officers installed last night were Robert Gorman, president; Theodore Baer, vice president; Edwin Stauffer, secretary; and John Freese, treasurer.

SENIOR OPTIMIST sponsor of the Woodcutters club is Howard Stahl. Installed in their offices at the meeting were William Feight, president; Harold Faust, vice president; Paul Lessig, secretary, and Roland Brauch Jr., treasurer.

Indians club sponsor is Elwood A. Angstadt with Junior Optimist Harry Seavers assisting him. Officers officially starting their terms last night were George Millard, president; Melvin Dunning, vice president; George Kulp, secretary, and James Trout, treasurer.

Randall Stoltzfus is the sponsor of the Crafters club. Taking office last night were David Reinhold, president; LeRoy Mayberry, vice president; Neil Hewitt, secretary, and David Sotter, treasurer.

Angstadt, sponsor of the Indians club, also will head the Stamp club. Installed in offices of the new club were James Harberger, president; Alan Botto, vice president; Carl Dengler, secretary, and Gerald Pollick, treasurer.

DUNCAN M. HUNSBERGER, vice president of the Optimist club and boys' work chairman, reported the new clubs were formed to further the service organization's work in promoting activities for youth.

The Pioneers and Woodcutters clubs are woodwork project organizations, he said, and the Indians and Crafters clubs will engage principally in craft work.

Formal Bathing Suits Could Be New Trend

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 11.—Bathing suits apparently are going formal.

The trend was revealed by representatives of some 50 newspapers at the opening yesterday of National Fashion Press week. Beach wear for those who never go near the water is getting positively dressy.

One leading designer, Rose Marie Reid, has recalled the Edwardian hour-glass era. These models (the suits) even have some feature boning, but it's removable. The bodices are pointed. Hips are rounded, in some cases with draped folds. But what's wrong with a bathing suit with a built-in bustle?

Some of the new fabrics are elasticized antique satin, kaile, taffeta and grosgrain.

The "formal" concept employs embroidered organdy, Irish linen and brocade shantung in some suits. The new collection of Milo Anderson, designer of Catalina, included a tailored "shirtmaker" style and two-piece models which give a one-piece effect. More conservative is the new line of Gantner suits, which seem to accentuate fabrics and a new feature, the front zipper closure. The latter is supposed to make 'em easier to get into.

A song service led by the Rev. John Sandiford, pastor of St. Peter's Baptist church, opened the meeting. Other music was by the Good Will Methodist church men's chorus of Morgantown. Elmer A. Dunwoody directed the special chorus numbers.

North Branch CE's next board meeting will be held Dec. 2 at the home of Hilda Hertzler, Pottstown RD. 2.

THE NEXT BRANCH MEETING will take place Dec. 9 at Parkerford Baptist church. A special Christmas program is being arranged by the Rev. John Bixler, pastor of Pine Swamp Evangelical church.

Last night's attendance banner went to Nantmeal Baptist's CE society, which had 18 members present.

Scheduled to start at 8 p. m., the picture employs well-known area people in the various roles of the photoplay.

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING, attended by 60 members of six CE societies in Chester county, had as its theme the building of good citizenship.

Principal speaker was the Rev. Melvin Forney, Philadelphia, who gave an informal talk on the meeting theme.

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

—Mercury Staff Photo

There is a comfortable amount of space for living under the gray shingle roof of this home of Mr. and Mrs. James McClintock at 722 North Hanover street. Completed the past August by Contractor L. Ernest Pickard, it has four rooms and a bath downstairs and space for two more rooms in the uncompleted attic. The living room behind the picture window at right is 16 by 12 feet, with soft blue walls and a white ceiling. On the other side of the front door, behind the red and white aluminum awning, is the 10 by 12 foot master bedroom, done in another shade of blue. The front door opens into the living room. At the back of the front room is an arch opening onto a hall that runs the width of the house, dividing the front rooms from those in back. The kitchen behind the living room is reached through the hall from the inside or from the steps outside at right. At left rear is another bedroom and center rear is the bath. The house also has a full basement with an eight-foot ceiling, which can be entered at ground level at the rear of the house on the 42 by 130 foot sloping lot. McClintock, shown here with Mrs. McClintock, plans to add a dormer window and finish the attic rooms when their son, Edward, who is now in the front lines in Korea, gets home. Another son, Robert, 14, is still at home. The McClintocks have planted two red maple trees in the front yard and a row of evergreens along the side. In back of the house they will have a patio surrounded by azaleas and peonies.

Sabotage Attempt Linked to Nazi Club

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11 (AP)—The teen-age "Nazi Stormtroopers club" of Metairie was linked today with an attempt to blow up an abandoned theater.

Jefferson parish (county) Deputy Sheriff Cy Ernst said two boys were caught four months ago as they placed a crudely-made bomb under the theater. They were identified today as members of the "Stormtroopers" group. Ernst said, Juvenile authorities, New Orleans police and the Jefferson parish sheriff's office announced the smashing of the group yesterday. Metairie is a suburb of New Orleans and is located in adjoining Jefferson parish.

The five-month-old club, which used the Nazi German Swastika and pictures of Adolf Hitler as emblems, was blamed for widespread damage, thefts and injury to two persons.

Aide Says Trip Risks Don't Bother Eisenhower

SALINA, Kas., Nov. 11 (AP)—Sen. Frank Carlson (R.Kas.) said today President-Elect Dwight Eisenhower was not worried about the risks involved in a trip to Korea for a personal look at the war situation. "While many of us are concerned about his safety, he is not worried," Carlson told the Lions club. "He has risked his life before doing his duty and is not afraid to do so again."

Carlson, a campaign advisor of Eisenhower, said the president-elect made up his mind to go to Korea long before he announced the decision.

Businessmen Look For Higher Sales

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Most businessmen look for higher dollar sales and many anticipate larger profits in the first quarter of 1953, according to a survey by Dun and Bradstreet.

The business reporting service interviewed 1322 executives representing a country-wide cross-section of the larger manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers.

These businessmen were asked to estimate first quarter results next year in comparison to the first quarter of 1952.

Dun and Bradstreet said 59 percent of the businessmen expect to increase their dollar sales in the first quarter next year and 32 percent anticipate no change from the first quarter this year.

Only nine percent, the survey showed, expect a decline in their dollar sales.

McCarran Says Lie Feared 'Disclosures'

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP) — Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), chairman of a Senate Internal Security subcommittee, said today he thinks Trygve Lie resigned as United Nations Secretary General because "of disclosures made and disclosures we will make in the future."

McCarran's committee is investigating Communist influence among American employees of the UN. A number of Americans on the UN have refused to tell the subcommittee whether or not they ever have been Communists. A few have admitted Communist connections.

Lie said yesterday he is resigning "because I hope this may help the United Nations to save the peace and to serve better the cause of freedom and progress for all mankind."

Maid, Two Children Witness $60 Holdup

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11 (AP) — A maid and two sick children were held captive today when three hold-up men invaded a steelbroker's home in suburban Wynnefield and escaped with $60 and a gold watch.

The robbers spent about a half hour in the residence of Mr. Bernard E. Antipin, and then left with apparently no more than the $60 taken from the maid, Mrs. Sarah Ruth, and the watch.

Mr. and Mrs. Antipin were at work when the holdup occurred. The children, Judith, five, and Andrew, nine months, both suffering from colds, were on the ground floor when Mrs. Ruth heard the unlocked front door being opened.

She went to the door and was met by a man, described as about 39, and wearing a brown leather jacket. The men ransacked the house and fled.

Public Hearing Believed Next Step in Coal Appeal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP) — A public hearing is believed to be the next step in Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam's plans to settle the soft coal wage appeal, officials said today.

Putnam has asked the Wage Stabilization board for advice on how he should proceed in the appeal, filed by President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers and a major portion of the soft coal industry.

Putnam was reported today ready to announce later this week the specifics of how he will handle the situation. It is believed that a public hearing on all the evidence already presented privately to the WSR and any new evidence Lewis and the operators may wish to present will be the next step.

Information on Visit Due at Week's End Hagerty Says

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 11 (AP)—Extensive security precautions are being set up to safeguard President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower against any enemy attack when he visits Korea—and on the way there and back.

Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, told a news conference today he hoped to be able to make public by the end of the week "some information" about the forthcoming trip.

But it was clear that the information will be most sparse for security reasons.

Asked about published reports that the general probably will spend Thanksgiving Day in Korea with front-line American troops, Hagerty replied:

"As we have said repeatedly, no date has been set for the Korean trip. The time just has not been decided."

IT WAS LEARNED, meanwhile, that any information Hagerty gives out this week probably will deal only with arrangements newsmen need to make regarding passports, accreditation to the Defense Department, and clearance with the Far East command.

There were indications there may be no advance official announcement of the date Eisenhower will leave for Korea—or anything on how he will travel.

And the secrecy will be tight regarding his exact whereabouts once he arrives in Korea.

There will be no advance word, either, on how long he plans to remain in that war-torn country.

Eisenhower promised during the campaign that if elected he would go to Korea in an effort to find a way to end the conflict there.

His election touched off planning of the security arrangements now being handled by the Secret Service and the armed forces.

The past Wednesday, the day after the election, President Truman offered Eisenhower the use of the White House plane, the Independence, if—as the President put it—the general still wanted to go to Korea.

Eisenhower replied that any military transport plane would do.

UN Employee, Who 'Switched Her Allegiance,' Baffles Senate Group

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—A pretty blonde typist told an astonished Senate subcommittee today she switched her allegiance to Russia but worked for the United Nations as an American.

"She was charged to the US quota at the UN while holding a Russian passport and USSR citizenship—this I cannot understand," said subcommittee counsel Robert Morris indignantly.

"I am not disloyal," replied the witness, Olga Michka. "I never did anything against America."

The 33-year-old American-born Miss Michka testified she applied for a Soviet passport in 1939 and actually got it ten years later. In her opinion, she thus surrendered her American citizenship.

MISS MICHKA, attractive in a dark green suit, said she wanted

Ike Says Broadcasts To Europe Hurt Reds

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—President-Elect Dwight D. Eisenhower said tonight that Radio Free Europe and Radio Free Asia "are hurting the Reds and giving comfort and encouragement to oppressed people."

Both Eisenhower and Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, whom he defeated for the presidency, delivered recorded radio broadcasts endorsing the 1952 Crusade for Freedom, sponsor of the two anti-Communist networks.

Each said the effectiveness of the programs beamed to the Soviet satellite countries was reflected in shary reaction from the Communists.

Eisenhower said the purpose of the crusade broadcasts "was actively to oppose Communism—to fight the big lie with the big truth."

116 S. HANOVER ST. POTTSTOWN, PA.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The chief prosecutor at the Nuremberg war crime trials, Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson, testified today American authorities did not provide him with existing evidence that the Russians were responsible for the Katyn forest massacre.

Jackson appeared voluntarily before a Congressional committee which has accused the Communists of slaughtering 15,000 Polish officers and intellectuals during World War II and dumping their bodies in pits dug in a wilderness in Russia.

Several times during today's hearing Jackson denied that the US prosecuting staff at Nuremberg had tried to assist Soviet authorities in pinning the atrocity on Nazi Germany.

But even if evidence of Soviet guilt had been produced, he said, the Russians could not have been convicted because "they had not even been indicted."

RUSSIA WAS a member of the Allied tribunal at Nuremberg which tried the German war criminals in 1946. The Russians succeeded in getting Germany charged with the massacre. A brief hearing was held, but the case was not pressed and no convictions were obtained.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 11 (AP)—Anthony Eden offered Andrei Y. Vishinsky a four-point plan today for settling the prisoner of war, deadlock in Korea. He appealed to the Soviet foreign minister to take "one crucial step" toward a final settlement and accept the British idea.

Vishinsky sat grimly silent in the UN Assembly as the British foreign secretary spoke and there was little hope in Western circles that the Russian would take the one step.

A United States spokesman said his delegation felt Vishinsky's long speech yesterday in the Political committee was as "close to closing the door as you can come without saying so."

"It seems to us that Mr. Eden is saying Mr. Vishinsky has said 'no,' but we hope he doesn't mean it," the spokesman added.

VISHINSKY INSISTED yesterday that all prisoners must be repatriated. Eden paid close attention. Today he told the Assembly he does not despair of agreement. He outlined his set of principles as follows:

"First: That every prisoner of war has the right, on the conclusion of an armistice, to be released.

"Second: That every prisoner of war has the right to be speedily repatriated.

"Third: That there is a duty on the detaining side to provide facilities for such repatriation.

"Fourth: That the detaining side has no right to use force in connection with the disposal of prisoners of war."

FDR's Only Daughter Marries Third Time

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Nov. 11 (AP)—Anna Roosevelt-Boettiger, only daughter of the late president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, was married today to Dr. James A. Halsted today in a quiet ceremony at the bridegroom's ranch in the Malibu mountains.

Those attending included her mother, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and two brothers, James and Elliott Roosevelt.

They will live in Dr. Halsted's home on the grounds of the veterans hospital in West Los Angeles, where he is a staff physician.

4—Moscow radio "recognized" Lie as UN secretary general—for the first time since the Russians started ignoring him in 1950—in an abusive broadcast saying his resignation showed "his complete political bankruptcy."

Without committing the department to a formal stand, he said he thought she would have to renounce her American citizenship outside the US to an American diplomatic officer, then comply with whatever Soviet laws apply to Russian naturalization.

ANTHONY EDEN OFFERS SOVIETS FOUR-POINT PLAN

Issue Is Settlement Of War Prisoner Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 11 (AP)—Anthony Eden offered Andrei Y. Vishinsky a four-point plan today for settling the prisoner of war, deadlock in Korea. He appealed to the Soviet foreign minister to take "one crucial step" toward a final settlement and accept the British idea.

Vishinsky sat grimly silent in the UN Assembly as the British foreign secretary spoke and there was little hope in Western circles that the Russian would take the one step.

A United States spokesman said his delegation felt Vishinsky's long speech yesterday in the Political committee was as "close to closing the door as you can come without saying so."

"It seems to us that Mr. Eden is saying Mr. Vishinsky has said 'no,' but we hope he doesn't mean it," the spokesman added.

VISHINSKY INSISTED yesterday that all prisoners must be repatriated. Eden paid close attention. Today he told the Assembly he does not despair of agreement. He outlined his set of principles as follows:

"First: That every prisoner of war has the right, on the conclusion of an armistice, to be released.

"Second: That every prisoner of war has the right to be speedily repatriated.

"Third: That there is a duty on the detaining side to provide facilities for such repatriation.

"Fourth: That the detaining side has no right to use force in connection with the disposal of prisoners of war."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—America lifted prayers for peace and an end to the two-year-old Korean War today in solemnly marking the 34th anniversary of World War I Armistice Day.

Only men and women now grown a little gray remember the tumult of jubilation that swept the Allied world on that day long ago when emissaries of Kaiser Wilhelm's broken armies surrendered in the Compiègne forest in France.

Today the threat of another great conflict hung over the Western World as American soldiers born long after the end of the first world war manned the battle lines in Korea and other far-flung outposts.

"RITA WILL NOT sign the contract until after she returns to New York Dec. 8. The agreement looks satisfactory for both parties."

Aly Khan's lawyer, Charles Torem, indicated the prince found the agreement acceptable, but said he did not know just when he would sign it.

As the lawyers rounded out five days of negotiations over the property settlement, Aly was living alone in his Paris mansion.

The film actress was on vacation in Spain.

NON-CONFIDENCE MOTION BEATEN DOWN IN BRITAIN

Conservative Government Wins Strength Test Over Laborites

LONDON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill's Conservatives tonight easily defeated a Labor motion of non-confidence in his Conservative Government. It was the first test of strength in the new session of Parliament.

The division was 313 to 279—a margin of 34 votes for the Conservatives. The Conservatives have a normal margin of only 16 seats in the 625-member House of Commons.

In presenting the challenge yesterday former Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison had charged that the Government lacked a strong enough economic policy to withstand the shocks of a possible "world slump."

The labor motion was to amend the traditional address thanking Queen Elizabeth II for outlining Government policy in her first "speech from the throne" Nov. 4.

THAT SPEECH, prepared by the Government, gave notice that in coming months the Conservatives intend to de-nationalize the trucking and steel industries.

In attacking the Government, Morrison said the level of US aid in the past had been a matter of uncertainty and would be uncertain in the future. There is to be a new administration in the United States, he said, and "they may have different policies and there might be economic difficulties there."

Winding up the Government reply, Capt. Harry Crookshank said the Laborites had made no aggressive attack on the Government and were "not really serious" in their non-confidence motion.

BPW Sets Christmas Board to Win Top Place in Table Setting Contest

Christmas, perennial favorite of children and adults, has scored again—Christmas and the Business and Professional Women's club in-genuity.

Entitled "A Christmas Supper Table" the combination of center-pieces, china, silver and napery, all in the Yule theme, won first prize in table-setting in the contest sponsored by Oliver L. Christman.

A Thanksgiving board by the Jewish Women's league and the Golden Wedding anniversary table of the Junior Service won second and third places as judged by Hensleigh C. Wedgwood, Annie Reese and Liddon Pennock.

To open the evening's activities, Wedgwood, direct descendant of Josiah Wedgwood, 18th century English potter, spoke at The Hill school on "Wedgwood—a Living Tradition."

More than 125 persons attended the lecture, sponsored by The Hill's humanities fund.

Mr. Wedgwood traced the development of ceramics in England from a folk craft to a major British art, and his ancestor's part in the evolution.

Prime Minister Gladstone, he said, once described Josiah Wedgwood with these words: "he converted a rude and inconsiderable handicraft into an elegant art and an important part of the national economy."

Until Asbury, a Staffordshire potter of the early 18th century, introduced white glazes, Wedgwood said, British ceramics were crude, utilitarian vessels made of rough, local clays.

Some time later, he continued, Thomas Whieldon invented salt and marbled glazes for dishes, and found methods of coloring dishes with oxides.

In 1754 Whieldon joined with the original Wedgwood, and the two revolutionized shapes, raw materials, designs and finishes of English tableware.

Wedgwood's first notable contribution to the industry, his descendant said, was cream color dinner ware. This became known as "queensware" after the ceramicist completed a service for Charlotte, wife of England's George III.

Among the firm's most interesting commissions, Mr. Wedgwood recalled, was a service for Katherine the Great of Russia—952 pieces containing 1244 different views of England, completed in 1771.

Inspired by the burgeoning classicism movement of the late 18th century, Wedgwood's next innovation was jasperware, pastel pieces with white relief figures generally called "Wedgwood" today.

Among the artists who designed these pieces were Sir Josiah Reynolds, John Flaxman and Lady Templeton.

Mr. Wedgwood accompanied his lecture with more than 75 color slides, and ended the program with a film depicting the development of a jasperware teapot from crude clay to salesroom.

In connection with his speech, a month-long exhibit opened at The Hill of Wedgwood tableware and vases, along with the works of two 18th century artists, contemporaries of Wedgwood.

William Hozarth's original engravings and Thomas Rowland-son's water colors and prints will be displayed at the school through Dec. 10.

Mr. Wedgwood heads the American branch of Josiah Wedgwood and Sons, Inc., with headquarters in New York City. He has been associated with the firm since 1927.

He is directly descended from Josiah Wedgwood, and a member of the family's tenth generation.

Following Mr. Wedgwood's speech, judges gathered in Mr. Christman's High and Warren street shop for award decisions.

The Christmas table, six place settings on the round walnut and oak table, was done in green and red, of course. Green hand-blown Italian goblets sparkled by Napoleon I in Wedgwood, green on white, plates. Gense Swedish stainless steel cutlery lay on round, woven red mats. Tiny red yarn topped with silver bells trimmed green linen napkins.

Built in a pyramid shape with a pinnacle of three red candles, the fir and shiny red Christmas ball centerpiece swung slowly around on the built-in "lazy Susan".

Mrs. Howard Stauffer and Dorothy Barkel represented the BPWC in this blue ribbon winner.

Awarded second prize, the Thanksgiving table gave a feeling of the first Pilgrims' hunting. Predominant colors as chosen by Mrs. Sidney Pollock and Mrs. Edward Hoffman were brown and blue. They were carried out in napery, centerpiece and background.

The four place settings were of American sporting dog plates, by Wedgwood, flanked by brown Mexican glasses and bamboo-handled stainless steel ware.

Mexico was echoed by rush and painted Mexican chairs and a reed wall-hanging on which hunting scenes hung.

Blue of the linen napkins contrasted with the brown cloth and was picked up again by the blue centerpiece bowl, a duck decoy, dried pods and water in the hanging pictures.

Hunting was emphasized further in the centerpiece by an old powder gun and Fall flowers of the field, gold pompons and startlingly beautiful "weeds".

Mrs. John Anastasia and Mrs. Melvin Gingrich representing the Junior Service league chose a theme dear to any woman's heart—the Golden Wedding anniversary. Colors were black and white to complement the necessary gold.

On a black linen cloth decorated with chrysanthemums in gold braid, were King Cup bone china plates in Wedgwood, Karuhla crystal amber goblets from Finland and Dirlyte (gold alloy) flatware.

The centerpiece of gold candles, yellow roses, green and gold on display through Dec. 10. The shop will be open to visitors on weekdays and Sundays from 2 to 5 in the afternoon and from 7 to 10 in the evening.

Six place setting of Wedgwood table ware will be awarded to each of these winning tables. First place prize is the Blue Grape pattern; second, Golden Ivory pattern, and third, Blue Cornflower pattern.

Other groups entering the contest include: Twin Valley Garden club, Woman's club of Boyertown, Pottstown Garden club and the Soroptimist club of Pottstown.

Century club of Pottstown, Woman's club of Pottstown, Newcomer's club and Schuylkill chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, Memorial Hospital auxiliary, Pottstown hospital Junior auxiliary and the Pottstown Rose society.

Appendicitis Attacks Strikes Two Sisters Within 48 Hours

The adage "when it rains it pours" can truly be applied to the Dennish household, 1493 Cherry lane—only in their case it was a shower of appendicitis attacks.

Beverly Jane Dennish, 15, and Marilyn Dennish, 16, both daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dennish, suffered attacks of appendicitis within 48 hours of each other, both have the causes removed through operations and are now resting at Pottstown hospital.

The father related that the younger girl was first to feel the effects of abdominal illness the past Friday morning. Upon examination by a physician she was taken to the hospital immediately and the operation was performed by noon.

The second daughter became ill while at school Monday morning and came home by taxi and was diagnosed as suffering from the same ailment. She lost her appendix at 9 p. m.

What do the two girls have to say about it? They're sorry to miss playing with the orchestra at the Emmanuel Lutheran church, and they also want to be excused for missing choir practice.

'Subversive' Rule Might Apply Locally

A proposed Public Housing administration directive aimed at barring "subversives" from public housing projects probably would apply to Hilldale but not to Penn Village.

This was reported yesterday by Edmund J. Koser, executive secretary of Montgomery County Housing authority.

Monday, the Reading Housing authority said it would ban from projects it operates any member of an organization declared subversive by the US attorney general's office. Projects affected are those financed with Federal funds. Penn Village is owned by the county authority.

Koser said the authority had not yet received notice of the order.

School Pupils Laud Mercury for Service

By PATTY POLLOCK and TONI MARIANO

I am a Sixth grader at the Washington school and I think that The Mercury has done very much work putting all the news together. At the Sixth grade we are reporters. It is hard just to get our news ready to be printed.

I want to thank The Mercury for letting us put our news in the paper.

"I think the item, 'All Around the Town,' is different than any other item I've ever read. You read about what some of the people in Pottstown think and like to do, their favorite hobbies, and pastimes, where they work, what they think about Pottstown and how it can be improved.

Another column I like is 'Main Drags'. People get caught in funny acts that are well written to make the readers laugh.

Care With Books Urged For Patrons of Library

By DONNA GRATZ

The children who borrow books from the school library are responsible for them and should bring them back on time. However, many say they have their book at home and can not find it. Still others say they have forgotten theirs.

I think the solution for this problem is that the children should be more careful and put their book where they can find it.

Brazil Nut, Almond Added To School Seed Chart

By CAROLE ANN DININNI and MICHAEL MALLISON

Susan Schurr brought one of her guppies to school for her friends in Miss Giles' room to see Ronald Ellis has added a Brazil nut and an almond to the seed chart which the class has been studying.

The children enjoyed the puppet show given by Mrs. Pringle from the Dairy council. Kenneth Leyrer and Patty Hutt celebrated birthdays in November.

Lessons Paramount After Holiday Week

Everyone in Mrs. Weimer's room is busy with lessons again after our Hallowe'en celebration.

The boys and girls came to school in costumes for the Hallowe'en party. Mrs. Weimer had trouble guessing Nancy Good in a "Bunny Rabbit" costume and Barbara Rergola dressed in a "Porky Pig" costume.

We went to the gymnasium for a march. The winners were given a chocolate candy pumpkin. After this, we went back to the room for the refreshments donated by the Franklin PTA.

Now we are learning about the Pilgrims and the Indians.

First Graders Learn Thanksgiving Lesson

Miss Maier's First grade is learning about the first Thanksgiving. We are making a Pilgrim village. Bobby Thomas brought a facsimile log cabin for it. We also are making Pilgrim pictures.

On Friday, we visited Mrs. Smith's room to see the Indian exhibits the third graders have made. It was just time for a birthday party and they invited us to stay. Each was given a lollipop. They were very good.

November birthdays in Room 104 are Jackie Leslie, Earl Noecker and Fay Bertollet.

Study of South America Occupies Sixth Graders

In studying Central America, the Sixth grade has learned some very interesting things.

We have divided the class into five groups. Some of the groups are taking two countries, others are only taking one.

The things being made are, box pictures, reports, pictures of the villages and their ways of living.

West Germans Stand Firm on Reparations

BONN, Germany, Nov. 11 (AP)—The young West German Republic, enmeshed in its first serious diplomatic quarrel, tonight stood firmly by its agreement to pay reparations to Israel and, as a consequence, faced the loss of trade in Arab states.

A spokesman said the Government had told the Arab state "for the last time" that it will not scrap its agreement despite threats by Arab league states to break off trade relations with West Germany.

Under the agreement, the West Germans promised to ship 775 million dollars worth of goods to Israel to pay in part for resettlement of immigrant Jews and make token restitution for Jewish losses suffered under Hitler.

The Arabs say the shipments would constitute aid to a country with which they are technically at war. They also contend the payments are too high and that aid should go instead to Arab refugees from Palestine.

Mental Patient Escapes From Fast-Moving Train

BLADENSBURG, Md., Nov. 11 (AP)—A 19-year-old mental patient escaped from two guards and a nurse and leaped to freedom from a train racing into Washington at 70 miles an hour today.

He was identified as Religh Kelling, who was being transferred from the Mayview State hospital near Pittsburgh to Central State hospital at Petersburg, Va.

One guard told police Kelling leaped from a train window, got to his feet after rolling down a hillside and limped into woods near the National Training school for boys.

Child in 2 Accidents In 1/2 Hour Hospitalized

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11 (AP)—A 7-year-old girl was involved in two accidents tonight within a half hour.

The girl, Josephine Loglschi, was struck by an auto while crossing a street. The driver of the car, identified by police as Marion C. Martin, 40, put the girl in his car and started for a hospital.

He had travelled about four blocks when his car and a truck collided, injuring the truck driver, Daniel Carboni, 30.

The truck was knocked on its side by the impact.

Police took both Carboni and the girl to a nearby hospital where the truck driver was treated for abrasions of the back and shoulders. Josephine suffered a possible fractured nose and cuts of the face and hands.

AFRICA REVOLTS ARE DESCRIBED BY MISSIONARIES

Former Pottstown Woman And Husband Return To United States

Two missionaries, a former Pottstown woman and her husband, gave an account of recent native uprisings in Africa to relatives and friends who greeted them on their arrival in New York city yesterday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Carroll Ness (she is the former Miriam Irick), who spent the past five years in Kenya, East Africa, said that the "natives in their area showed quite a feeling of sympathy toward the 'nationalist causes' which have stirred recent unrest on the Dark continent.

They related that although the Akamba tribe, to which they ministered, has not been affected, one of the mission stations in hostile territory has exposed approximately 100 native children to danger.

The Rev. Ness said the leader of the Mau-Mau sect, responsible for the revolts against British rule and bloodshed among the natives, had been "living in Moscow for quite some time" prior to returning to Africa.

Meeting the couple, and their three children, David, 5, James, 2, and Mary Carolyn, 8 months, who docked aboard the Queen Elizabeth at 12:45 p. m. were Mr. and Mrs. William Marsteller, 662 Walnut street—she is the mother of Mrs. Ness; the Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Ness, of Wrightsville, parents of the returned minister; Mr. and Mrs. John Ness, and the Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Smethers—he is pastor of the Birdsboro Evangelical Congregational church—she is the former Betty Irick, a twin sister to Mrs. Ness.

ALSO IN THE PARTY were the Rev. and Mrs. Donald T. Floyd, pastor of the Trinity Evangelical Reformed church; their children, Donald Jr., 6, and Janet, 3; Mrs. William Hertzog, Pottstown RD 3; Mrs. Charles Hertzog, Pottstown RD 3, and Mrs. Elmer Detweiler, 73 North Evans street.

The returned missionaries and their children left Kenya colony aboard the SS Warwick Castle Oct. 1, arriving in London Oct. 24. They told of an experience when the ship docked in Marseilles, France and then unexpectedly pulled away from the pier "giving us just enough time to clamber aboard before the gangplank was pulled in."

The family spent 12 days in London, embarking for the United States on Nov. 6.

Following an overnight stay at the Africa Inland Mission headquarters in New York, where they will be given physical examinations today, the family will go to Milton, Pa., for a visit with the Rev. Ness' parents.

The Rev. Floyd said the couple is scheduled to come to Pottstown on Sunday, Nov. 23, to speak at church services and to appear at a reception for friends that evening at the Floyd home.

The reception will be sponsored by the Trinity Evangelical Congregational Missionary society.

In 1951 Canada bought 7 percent of United States farm exports and ranked fifth among America's foreign markets.

Home Again—After Five Years

On US soil for the first time in five years are the Rev. and Mrs. Carroll Ness, and their children (left to right) Mary Carolyn, 8 months, David, 5, and James, 2. Mrs. Ness, the former Miriam Irick, of Pottstown, and her husband, are missionaries who served in Kenya, East Africa. Friends and relatives from the local area were on hand to greet the family as they docked in New York City aboard the SS Queen Elizabeth yesterday.

Parents Blame Theft On Daughter, Friend

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Nov. 11 (AP)—A Greene county woman and a male friend were held on an open charge today in connection with the theft of $300 from the woman's parents.

Police identified the pair as Dorothy Fike, 25, and Chero Seneri, 33, of Masontown.

The stolen money, part of $2500 life savings of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fike, was kept in a large pickle jar beneath the basement steps of their home, two miles from Jefferson. None of the money was recovered, police said.

Fike, who reported the theft last night, said he found only $1900 in the jar. He told police he and his wife kept the money at home because they "didn't trust" banks. However, he banked the remainder of his savings today.

No Charges Filed In Fatal Gun Duel

INDIANA, Pa., Nov. 11 (AP)—A barrage of questions was hurled at George L. Spitelier, victor in a fatal gun duel, as State police and Indiana county Sheriff Paul W. Jeffries delved today into the background of an 18-month-old romance.

The gun duel resulted in the death Sunday of Cletus E. Peterman, 52, of Smicksburg, husband of Spitelier's sweetheart, Dorothy.

Spitelier and Mrs. Peterman, both 33, agreed in their accounts of the gun-fight. They told police Peterman pursued Spitelier with a gun and fired two shots before Spitelier fired in return, one of his three blasts piercing Peterman's heart.

Sheriff Jeffries said no charges will be filed against Spitelier until tomorrow because of the Armistice Day holiday.

The national anthem of the United Kingdom is "God Save the King" and sung to the same tune as "America," a patriotic song of the United States.

Korean War Veteran Cites Experiences Before Kiwanians

Alan Levengood, Glasgow street, Stowe, spoke to the weekly meeting of the Pottstown Kiwanis club last night on his experiences in the Korean war.

At the meeting in the Elks home, 65 members heard the veteran artillery man relate some of the trying times the Army had in the early days of the Korean fighting.

Levengood returned about a year ago from the combat area after serving 18 months in Korea.

Answering panel questions, the former soldier informed the Kiwanis that most of the equipment used in the fighting during his tour of duty was American. He said the only equipment other than American used by the UN was that taken to Korea by the Canadians and the British.

He said the morale of the soldiers was "as good as could be expected" but that every soldier serving in the war had a "forgotten feeling." The soldiers in Korea felt that not enough attention was being focused on the war, that not many Americans thought the war worth thinking about, he said.

The meeting last night was in charge of the war memorial committee. Dr. Paul Z. Hoffman, chairman, planned the session.

The Niagara River is about 34 miles long.

Negro Farmer in North Carolina Found Guilty of 'Leering' at Girl

YANCEYVILLE, NC, Nov. 11 (AP)—An all-White male jury today found Mac Ingram, a negro tenant farmer, guilty of assault on a female by "leering" at her.

The jury considered the case 55 minutes in superior court. Judge Frank Armstrong said he would pass sentence tomorrow.

Ingram was charged with assault on an attractive teen-aged farm wife, Mrs. Willie Jean Boswell Webster, who testified that the middle-aged Negro father "eyed" her from "about 75 feet" on her father's Caswell county farm. At an earlier trial, Ingram denied he had criminal intentions. He said the girl was dressed in jeans and "looked like a boy" when he attempted to inquire of her where he could borrow a trailer.

Under North Carolina law no bodily contact is necessary for conviction of assault.

PRIOR TO THE TRIAL attorneys for Ingram said they would appeal a verdict of guilty to the State Supreme court.

When she took the stand yesterday, Mrs. Webster said she looked up the word "leer" in a dictionary and found it meant "a curious look." She told the jury this definition exactly described the manner in which Ingram eyed her as he drove slowly past her with his head out the window of his car.

The woman also testified Ingram chased her across a field but did not get within 65 feet of her.

Ingram first was convicted in recorder's court in June of 1951 and given a two-year road sentence. He appealed to the Superior court and his trial there the past November ended in a mistrial when two of the four Negroes on the jury held out for acquittal.

Attorneys for the 45-year-old defendant declined to offer any evidence when the State rested its case earlier today. Ingram had been free under $1500 bond since first trial.

MRS. WEBSTER, a white girl, was 17 and unmarried when she brought the charges against Ingram. Since then she has married.

Ingram, father of nine children, originally was charged with assault with intent to commit rape. This charge was reduced to assault on a female at his superior court trial.

Under North Carolina law, Ingram's two-year sentence can be upheld by Judge Armstrong or reduced within his own discretion. The maximum on the charge is two years.

OFFICIALS OF CIO HONOR MURRAY, PLAN NEW TALKS

Mechanics of Picking Man To Succeed Leader At Top of Agenda

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11 (AP)—CIO lieutenants from all sections of the nation met today at the bier of their fallen leader, Philip Murray. Tomorrow they'll hold a closed session at which the labor group's future course will be charted.

Nine CIO vice presidents will confer with Allan Haywood, executive vice president of the CIO, on the mechanics of electing a new president to succeed Murray.

Murray died of a heart attack in a San Francisco hotel Sunday at the age of 66. He was on the West Coast to prepare for the scheduled Nov. 17 start of the CIO convention.

With Murray gone, his aides must decide whether to go ahead with convention plans and how to go about naming his successor.

At Detroit, the executive board of the CIO United Auto workers recommended the convention be put off until an unspecified date. Board members said the recommendation is out of respect for Murray.

Walter P. Reuther, president of the Auto Workers union, will submit the UAW's recommendation at the meeting of vice presidents.

Whatever they decide probably will be ratified at another Pittsburgh meeting on Friday of the CIO Executive board. That group consists of the vice presidents, plus elected representatives from various CIO unions.

MURRAY'S DEATH has thrown the CIO into some confusion. Some of the leaders were in Los Angeles for the convention and others were en route to the coast. Many unions had planned to hold board meetings in Los Angeles in advance of the convention.

Now there's talk of postponing the convention until next year and then holding the gathering in some Eastern city.

But Vice President Haywood, who has been mentioned as a candidate for the CIO presidency despite his 66 years, said on his arrival here that "nothing has been decided."

The vice presidents, all of whom could be considered possible choices to replace Murray, may decide to name an interim president until next year. Or they could recommend their choice to the convention delegates and let the convention go on as scheduled.

Hundreds gathered at a suburban funeral home this afternoon to pass by Murray's casket in a funeral home. Aides and relatives found they could not accommodate the crowds which want to attend his funeral Thursday if they held the rites in his neighborhood church. So they transferred the requiem mass to St. Paul's cathedral.

Murray will have his last resting place in St. Anne's cemetery in nearby Castle Shannon, a one-time coal mining community which has become a haven for suburbanites.

Stevenson on TV Is Man's Suggestion

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 11 (AP)—The Democratic National committee should have Gov. Adlai Stevenson make a once-a-month radio and TV report to the people, a committee member said today.

Monroe Sweetland, member for Oregon, proposed in a letter to Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell that he call a meeting of the full committee "as soon as possible, preferably early in December" to consider among other things arranging "to put Gov. Stevenson on nationwide radio-TV once a month to present to the people the position of the Democratic party on current developments."

City's Attempt to Drive Starlings Out Is a Flop

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., Nov. 11 (AP)—Starlings gave Birmingham's city fathers the bird tonight. Their effort to drive the 20,000 starlings out of the city with fireworks was a flop.

If anything the banging of firecrackers was harder on the nerves of the home going office workers. The starlings wheeled around the buildings until the noise subsided and then came back to their old perches.

SILENCE IS KEPT ON REPORTS OF H-BOMB BLAST

AEC Spokesman Asserts No Comment Until End Of Atomic Tests

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Officials of the Atomic Energy commission persisted in tight-lipped silence today in the face of reports that the first American-made hydrogen "hell" bomb has been exploded in the South Pacific.

"We will have absolutely no comment until the current series of atomic tests is concluded," an AEC spokesman said. "Then we will make an announcement."

Previously, AEC officials had indicated that for security reasons it might be years before any announcement was made in connection with hydrogen bomb experiments.

Meanwhile, scientists here dismissed any idea that an H-bomb explosion might have caused the 13-foot tidal wave that struck the island of Oahu, Hawaii, on Nov. 4, and also threw huge waves against the Aleutians and Midway islands.

SCIENTISTS SAID any man-made detonation would be puny compared to the gigantic forces unleashed by nature—such as earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, hurricanes and other phenomena—that might set tidal waves in motion.

Eye-witness accounts of a purported hydrogen bomb explosion have been published during the last few days in Los Angeles, Lima, O. Michigan City, Ind., and Salt Lake City.

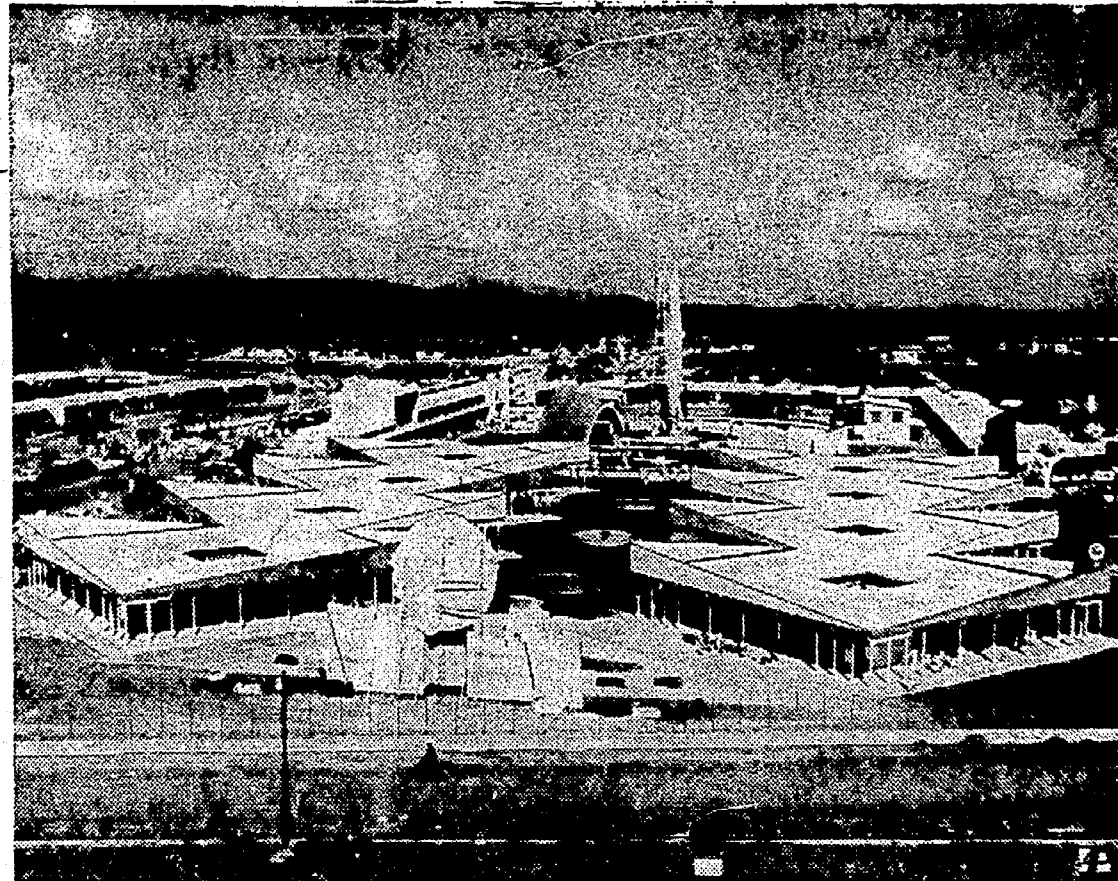

Most of the published descriptions, set forth in letters written by US sailors to friends in this country—agreed that H-hour for the explosion was 7:15 a. m., Central Pacific time, and the blast took place on the mid-Pacific island of Eniwetok. That is the scene of the current hush-hush atomic tests.

One account said the explosion occurred Oct. 1; two others said the date was Nov. 1.

A sailor's report published in the Lima News said he watched the spectacle through binoculars from his ship 30 miles away and saw a great chunk of Eniwetok island "just seem to melt away" in the post-explosion fire that burned for six hours.

Finally, he said, the mile-wide atoll "actually disappeared."

Peace Persuasion Urged By Milton Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Milton S. Eisenhower—brother of the president-elect—said today the United States must depend primarily upon persuasion rather than coercion to attain permanent peace.

Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State college, spoke at the opening of the annual convention of the association of land-grant colleges and universities.

He said the building of peace involves "enlightened economic co-operation," "intelligent political co-operation," and "the maintenance of power ready for use by the kindly people of the world who want peace."

REHOVOT, Israel, Nov. 11 (AP)—Dr. Chaim Weizmann, father and first president of Israel, was buried today in an olive grove on his estate sloping eastward toward the Judean hills and Jerusalem, the Holy City.

The funeral service was the traditional orthodox Hebrew ritual, accompanied by a military ceremonial. A guard of honor presented arms along the garden path over which the mourners passed.

Four hundred representatives of Israel's public life and foreign diplomats were invited to attend the service for Weizmann, who died of a heart attack Sunday at the age of 77.

Unless the Perk circuit's Big Four combatants take to producing more startling and shocking upsets than a class in beginners' ice skating, Royersford has successfully defended its football crown for 1952. The 'Fords, by virtue of their shellshocking of Upper Perkiomen Saturday, 12-6, put down the only known serious rebelling state in the P-S nation.

Through the division of powers and victories existing this year, the only way in which they could be deposed as thronequatters would be if Spring City, the loop's junior member in years of service and this season in size, would hack out a couple of upsets in its final two tiffs—with Boyertown and the Eagles. A most astounding feat to speculate on, gentlemen.

Among Little Four the membership roster has taken a severe shaking up in a year's time. West Pottsgrove, which reversed the 32-27 shiner Collegeville hooked onto it 12 months back with a 26-18 verdict of its own Saturday, appears next in line in the accession book.

The Fals this week meet Norco in the Cats' lair in the title-deciding rift. A loss this past week for either C-T or WP would have eliminated either team from a shot at a clear-cut championship, although a three-way tie could have resulted yet. Now in the case of the Fals' victory last week, the victor in this week's game gets all the pie, and the loser in the Collegeville-Schwenksville scuffle gets all the scraps from the banquet as the cellar team.

Boyertown and Spring City will have it out this week for the bottom rung of the Big Four in a duel in the Bucs' bay that should serve to inject a hypodermic into the winner's sagging morale.

ROYERSFORD and Upper Perk both meet rugged opponents in anticlimactic struggles, after their "pitch" game the past weekend. The 'Fords meet Neshaminy, winner of seven straight after an opening loss to strong Ambler. Upper Perk battles Emmaus, the team, that flushed Nazareth's 26 game unbeaten streak last time out, this week before the home folks.

Both coach Bob McNelly of Royersford and UP assistant Warren Guldin supported our view that the Eagle line was the trick-turning medium in this past Saturday's mix. And the game itself bore out our forecast to anyone who asked our personal opinion that the 'Ford forwards would likely outcharge their heavier foes from across the line of scrimmage.

We were sort of expecting the Eagles to grind things up on the ground when they had the ball, but it was defensively that McNelly's boys delivered as they had never done before. The pass defense was especially the provoker of a long grunt from the UP bench.

The Perk players had taken in the 'Ford-Shillington match and seen McNelly counter the Speedies with a 6-3-2 alignment concerned more with stymying ground stabs than the air force. As a result, Shill receivers in the open were dashing around all evening, but nobody could get a pass to them.

So when Royersford came out in a 6-2-1-2 Saturday with a secondary that took great zest in knocking down Terry Fetterman's heaves, the Perkers were taken aback about two miles. Jenson Fray, the latest addition to the 'Ford stopper brigade, turned in one very noteworthy deflection, jumping in at the last moment to bat down Fetterman's toss to end Al Tomlinson, flaring into the left flat, on fourth down.

THAT INTERVENTION on Fray's part really sent the Perkers skidding for it deflated their only sustained offensive bubble of the day and cued Fetterman and his cohorts that they couldn't make their fortune in the West (in the South, actually, in this case) through the airplanes.

ACTUALLY, the Perk goalward pilgrimage got its start under circumstances designed to circumvent their shots outside tackle. The 'Fords put into effect, in the third period, a defensive scheme calling for a tight six-man line with two backerups playing wide as virtual ends of an eight-man shock battalion.

When UP caught onto things in the final period and started dispatching Gerry Hummel and Denny Roth inside tackle, the Perks rolled inside 'Ford 30 for the first time on a movement carrying any perpetual momentum. The Eagles, however, quickly realized the status quo and shifted back into a standard 6-2 setup. Thereupon the Perks' overland power disintegrated and they were forced off the ground where Fray and his mates ruled supreme.

Upper Perkiomen's Del Fritz (50) is shown here getting off his 75 yard scoring run around his left end against Royersford—this past Saturday in the second quarter. ## Trojan Defense Shines In Long Passing Practice

School was out for everybody but the athletes yesterday and the Pottstown Trojans attended classes on Franklin field as usual.

While a few of the absentees were out filling the air with No. 6 shot, the rest of the team stayed home and took part in some football aerial target practice. Passes and more passes filled the Armistice Day afternoon but only a few came to rest at their intended destination.

The pass defense far overshadowed the pass offense. Quarterbacks Jim Kirk and Josh Sova were constantly distracted by two hard charging lines that gave intended receivers little time to become isolated.

Coach Heeb Meyers designed the long passing session in the hope of strengthening the Trojans' air game for this Saturday's invasion of the surging Bridgeport Dragons.

Running plays were outlawed during the novel drill and the best foot work came on interceptions and the return of kicks. Co-captains Ron Downie and Bob Sutton excelled in this department, surprisingly enough.

SUTTON SCORED the scrimmage's only touchdown with an intercepted pass. But his big thrill of the day came when he raced a kick back 60 yards before being halted.

Downie also made like a pony back when he intercepted a stray pass and ran for 30 yards with a bit of clever stepping.

The holiday spirit seemed to fire up the linemen and they pushed each other about with merry abandon. Little Bill Garrow spent most of the afternoon in the enemy's backfield catching the passer on several occasions for healthy losses.

Meyers also had his defensive units deployed against the several formations used by the Porters. The Dragons have been known to work from both straight and split Ts, single wing, and some unorthodox spread formations.

THEY HAVE shown good inside running power and in Joey Pinco-vich they have a quarterback of the Mickey Zazo caliber. When he

Pitt Prepares For Hard Battle With Wolfpack

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11 (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh football team—center of several bowl game rumors—settled down today to the immediate business of preparing for Saturday's game with North Carolina State at Pitt Stadium.

Coach Red Dawson said his squad emerged from a 21-14 victory over Ohio State last Saturday without a single injury.

CBL Organization Meeting Draws Bids From Seven Teams

Seven teams had representatives at last night's first organization meeting of the Pottstown City Basketball league at Borough hall.

Five of the eight teams that composed the circuit the past year were on hand, including defending champion Three Crowns and runner-up URW.

Two new clubs had representatives present and director Howard Horrocks said that the loop could use another team this year to bring the membership to the usual eight.

On hand were John Hospador, Legion; Harry Penrose, Flaggs; Bill Binczak, Jacobs; Bill Rhoads, URW; Danny Ludwig, Three Crowns; Jim Koval, Bethlehem Steel AFL, and John Linderman, Doehler.

Jacobs and Bethlehem Steel AFL were not in the league the past year. O'Dells and bers of the 'CBL in its last members of the CBL in its last campaign, were not represented.

Officers elected by the delegates were Penrose, president; Ludwig, vice president and Horrocks, treasurer.

Only one constitutional change was made, that being the setting up of 8:15 p. m. as the definite starting time for the second game. Heretofore, the second game had been listed for 15 minutes after the end of the first one.

A PRACTICE schedule was also drawn up and the starting date of the circuit set for Dec. 8.

The practice card: Tues., Nov. 25—Three Crowns and Jacobs, Flag and URW. Wed., 26—Doehler, Legion and Bethlehem Steel AFL. Mon., Dec. 1—Jacobs and Firestone, Three Crowns and Flaggs. Thurs., 4—Legion, Doehler and Bethlehem Steel AFL.

The first practice period will be at 6:30, with the second listed for 8 p. m.

Pulls Hip Muscle

Carroll Swenson (above), Royersford High fullback, pulled a hip muscle yesterday while sprinting and will be out temporarily. Coach Bob McNelly declined to assert whether Swenson would be around this Saturday against Neshaminy, but the guess here is that he will. Swenson has been the main 'Ford threat this year on plays through the middle of the line. He's a 160-pounder and a Junior.

Hard Hitting Joey DeJohn Makes Debut On TV Tonight Against Norman Hayes

DETROIT, Nov. 11 (AP)—Joey DeJohn of Syracuse, N. Y., boxing's newest rags-to-riches lad, makes his national television debut here tomorrow night in a 10-round light heavyweight scrap with Norman Hayes of Boston.

DeJohn was a free-swinging unknown until he knocked out Irish Bob Murphy, one of the more durable light heavies, this Fall.

DeJohn finished his preparation with a light workout today and predicted he'll knock out Hayes, a Bostonian.

Hayes countered with a prediction that he'll knock out DeJohn. The fight will be televised and broadcast nationally starting at 10 p. m. Pottstown time.

DeJohn began fighting in 1944. He has fought 83 times and won 48 times by knockouts.

10 Hill Seniors In Soccer Final With Lawrenceville

Ten Seniors will don their soccer shoes for The Hill school this afternoon for the last time. When the Blue takes the field against Lawrenceville at 2:30 o'clock, only captain Bill Andrews will not be playing his final game—he is a Junior.

Lawrenceville has been one of The Hill's toughest opponents in recent years. Not since 1946 has the local prep school been able to beat the New Jersey booters.

The past season The Hill scored a 2-2 tie to come close to breaking the jinx.

Having posted a 5-2-1 record to date, the Blue stands a good chance of halting the Lawrenceville streak. But it will take their best effort as the Red and Black has compiled a 6-2 mark against some rugged competition.

Coach Bob Morgan will start his usual opening eleven: Bill Andrews, Stew Lewis, Bill Hayes, Clyde Dease and DeSchryver as his attacking force; Pete Pressinger, Martin Caine and Jim Valentine manning the halfback posts; Bryan Kirby and Pete Wallace as defense men and Jim Holbrooke in the net.

'Y' Volleyball Team Loses, 2-1

The Pottstown YMCA varsity volleyball team fought the defending district champion Norristown YMCA squad down to the wire last night but lost a narrow 2-1 decision.

With Walt Adams spiking for a good point production, the local team won the first game, 15-9. Norristown fought an uphill battle to a 16-14 win and duplicated the feat on the same score in the third game to win the match.

Previously the Pottstown netters lost to the North Branch of Philadelphia and defeated Philadelphia's Central "Y," and they now have a 2-1 record.

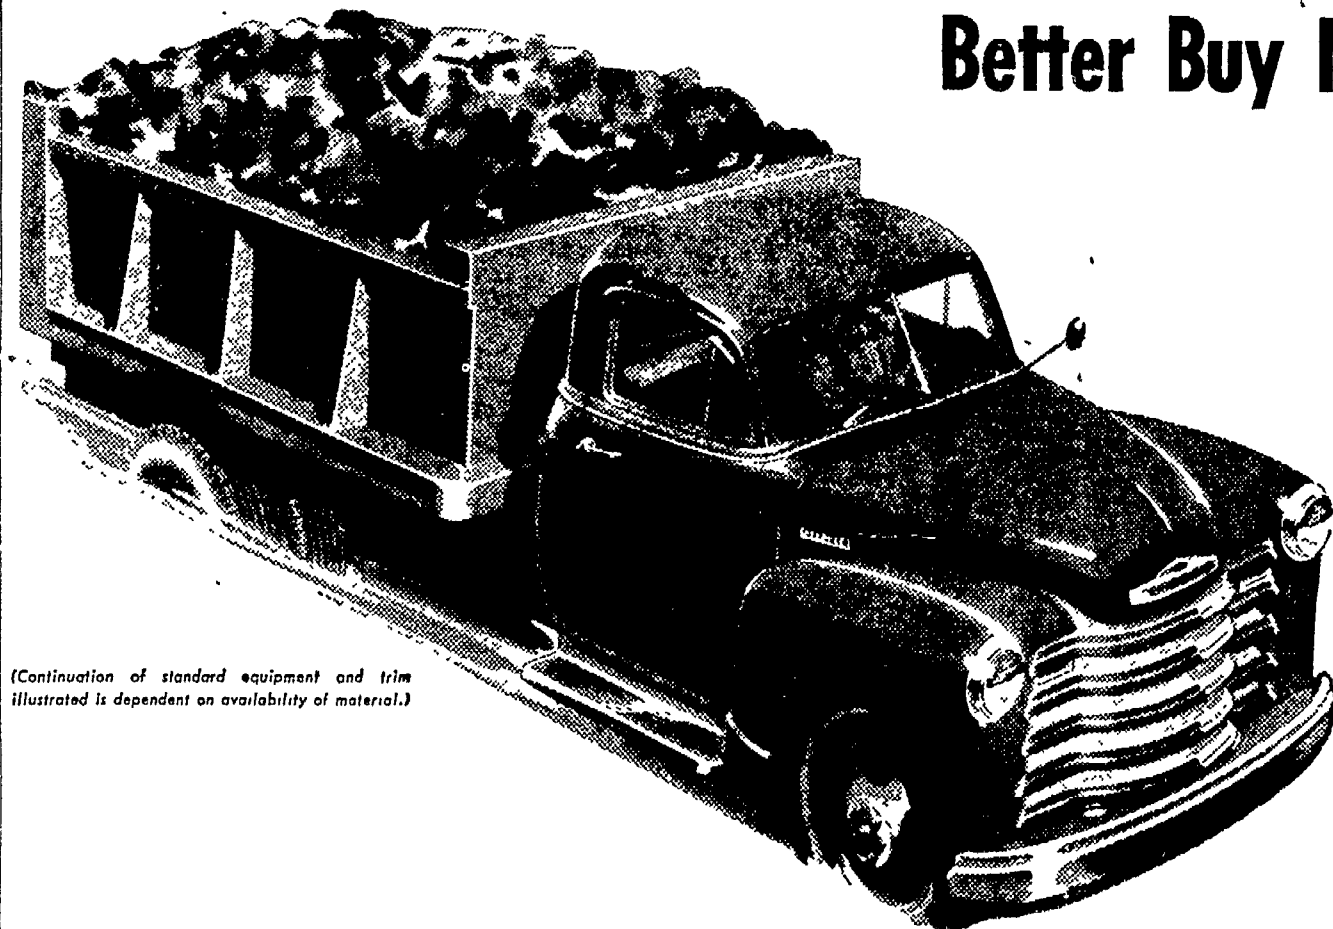

Those who played last night are Don Vandorsiche, Adams, Lester Carter, Gordon Astheimer, George Saurman, Harold Glenney, Ronald Mauger and Robert Richards.

In their first four games this season the University of Florida grid team recovered 12 of its opponents' 17 fumbles.

Irish, No. 6

Spartans, Engineers, Terps, 1-2-3 in Poll

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Michigan State, Georgia Tech and Maryland, running all by themselves as the 1-2-3 teams in this week's Associated Press poll of the nation's best, face assignments Saturday that will either keep them far out ahead or drop them down into the pack.

All tangle with tough, offensive-minded teams that have been looking forward to Nov. 15 as a day of reckoning. A clean sweep by the big three would push them even further in front than they are after the ballots of 139 sports writers and broadcasters gave Michigan State 1193 points, Georgia Tech 1135, and Maryland 1128. Among them they collected 113 first place ballots.

Michigan State, leader in all except one of the poll's seven weeks, faces perhaps the most difficult assignment in fast-rising Notre Dame.

New Owners Ready To Operate Texans

DALLAS, Nov. 11 (AP)—A new group of owners is prepared to take over the Dallas Texans and operate for at least three seasons, an official of the National Football League club said tonight.

John J. Coyle, Texan trustee-director, said: "There are a few loose ends to be tied down but I think that can be done by Friday, perhaps sooner."

The statement followed two long closed sessions of the directors and stockholders of the financially distressed professional football team.

Coyle, who said "no names can be announced now," added that the new ownership would have "the right kind of dough to operate a professional team and they know how to operate on a business-like basis."

"It was a nice big meeting," Coyle said, "and I feel real good about it. The plan is so close to fulfillment now that if somebody decided to back out, we still could work it out easily."

COYLE, an investment banker, said the scheme first was approved by present directors of the club, then given to the stockholders at another meeting.

"The primary interest of everyone," he said, "was to keep professional football in Dallas. The stockholders were willing to take their loss to assure on that."

While no official figures have ever been revealed, one source close to the situation has estimated the club would lose $250,000 this season. Others have declared it would be less, possibly $150,000.

While Coyle at first labeled the incoming group of owners as "completely new," he amended the statement under direct questioning by saying "it might be possible for a few of the present stockholders to remain identified with the team." He declined to name them.

Sets New Mark

With the season only two-thirds over, Joe Collier, Northwestern end, already has set a new Big Ten yardage total for passes caught and threatens to crack the league mark for number caught. Collier has nabbed 22 passes for 475 yards. The old records are 28 passes and 394 yards, held by Don Stone-sifer.

The Irish jumped from 10th to sixth in the poll of the strength of their 27-21 upset of Oklahoma last Saturday, and they have an added incentive to knock over top-ranked Michigan State. State's 35-0 trouncing of the Irish last year was the highest score ever run up against a Frank Leahy team.

Revenge also is the background of Georgia Tech's traditional classic with Alabama. This time revenge is in the big team's favor, however, for it was Alabama that ran up a 54-19 count against Tech two years in the Engineers' last defeat. But Alabama has Bobby Marlow and Corky Tharp, a dangerous pair of runners, who would dearly love to embarrass Tech's Sugar Bowl team.

Maryland, which is barred—just at present, at least—from a bowl bid, takes on unbeaten but twice tied Mississippi, which could just about wrap up a major bowl bid of its own by trouncing the Terrapins.

Fourth-rate UCLA, which has an open date, is the only member of the entire top ten, in fact, that can afford to relax this week.

Harry Matthews To Fight in London In Comeback Bout

SEATTLE, Nov. 11 (AP)—Harry "Kid" Matthews and his gaunt, acerbic manager, Deacon Jack Hurley, headed for London today and a Dec. 9 fight with Johnny Williams.

Matthews, whose bid for a crack at the heavyweight crown was checked by Rocky Marciano, hopes to take a long stride up the comeback trail against Williams.

Hurley and The Kid, both veteran travelers, had no trouble agreeing to take the train as far as New York. But the rest of the trip was a problem. Harry is allergic to airplanes and The Deacon is a poor sailor.

So they decided to go by sea from New York to London, after all. The Deacon admitted, it's Harry who will have to do the heavy work against Williams.

Sub Quarterback Gains All-American Recognition in South

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 11 (AP)—Charlie Harding, the University of Virginia's lanky senior quarterback, became a candidate today for All-American honors.

The passing artist from Fredericksburg, Va., was endorsed by two of the three-member southern board of nominators after his performance last Saturday in Virginia's 34-7 rout of North Carolina.

Harding found North Carolina's weakness—a leaky pass defense—and lost no time exploiting it. He mixed his flat passes with long, arching aerials, hurled three strikes for touchdowns and scored once himself on a three-yard sneak through the line.

Before the game, Virginia Coach Art Guepe warned Harding he'd have to play the whole game since the Cavaliers' No. 1 quarterback, Mel Roach, hadn't fully recovered from a shoulder injury. And Harding went all the way—much to the Tar Heels' regret.

The board also nominated three other players, all halfbacks. They included Davidson's Jimmy Thacker, North Carolina State's Alex Webster and West Virginia's Dick Nicholson.

Thacker, North Carolina State's quarterback Worth Lutz of Duke and end Tom Scott of Virginia.

Board member Frank Spencer of the Winston-Salem Journal Sentinel reported he had "never witnessed a finer exhibition of tackle play than Meadows turned in against Navy Saturday."

Webster turned in his finest performance of the campaign as North Carolina State whipped Washington and Lee, 25-14. He tossed one 13-yard scoring pass and consistently chopped through W&L's defense for yardage which put the Wolfpack in scoring position.

Nicholson, a sophomore, piled up 113 yards carrying the ball for West Virginia in the Mountaineers' 39-21 triumph over Virginia Military. He made two touchdowns, romping 33 yards on one six-point gallop.

Five Southern Conference area players have been unanimously nominated by the board. They are quarterback Jack Scarbath and tackle Ed Meadows of Maryland, tackle Ed Meadows and

Don Heinrich Holds Total Offense Lead Billy Vessels Moves to 2d in Rushing

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—If Washington's two remaining opponents find some way to contain Don Heinrich's passing—something the others haven't been able to do—the 1952 ground gaining champion in major collegiate football still will be a T-formation quarterback.

Heinrich has established a healthy lead in passing and in total offense. And the five players who are closely bunched in the total offense list some distance behind him also are T quarterbacks.

Only once since the National Collegiate AA statistical bureau has been compiling nation-wide records has a T quarterback come out first in total yardage. That was in 1948 when Nevada's Stan Heath covered enough ground throwing the ball to outdistance the double and triple threat backs.

The NCAA statistics released today show Heinrich has gained 1492 yards altogether. Of these 1488 came through the air on 128 completions in 236 attempts, including 13 touchdown passes. All are nation-leading figures.

The Washington quarterback was passing champion in 1950 and missed last season because of an injury. With two games to play, he has a chance to overhaul the record of 159 completions set last year by Don Klosterman of Loyola of Los Angeles. And if he retains the lead in the two departments, he'll be the fourth player to score that double and the first two-time passing champion since Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian in 1937 and 1938.

Gene Rossi of Cincinnati, who has passed for 1341 yards but has an over-all total of only 1277 because of a minus rushing yardage, is second on the total offense list. Then come Tommy O'Connell of Illinois, 1276 yards; Ted Marchbroda of Detroit, 1289; Johnny Barton of Ohio State, 1245 and Zeke Bratkowski of Georgia, 1226. They're the contenders. O'Connell, Barton and Bratkowski also are 2-3-4 on the passing list.

THE STAR RUNNERS, whose yardage hardly bears comparison with the figures accumulated by the passers, are having a lively little contest of their own.

Rod Williams, Hardin-Simmons sophomore, now is ahead with 825 yards to 812 for Billy Vessels of Oklahoma while Villanova's Gene Filippski, the leader most of the season, has dropped to third with 792.

But Vessels has one more game to play than Williams and in his last three games the Oklahoma speedster has run for 441 yards while Williams was gaining 389. Vessels also has the best yards-per-play average among the leaders, 7.59.

The individual leaders in each department:

Bobby Adams stole the most bases for the Cincinnati Reds in 1952. He pilfered 11 sacks.

Native Dancer is the 14th unbeaten two-year-old champion since annual records were first kept in 1870.

Sam Mele Ordered To Report Early

CHICAGO, Nov. 11 (AP)—Manager Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox today made it obvious he wants outfielder Sam Mele to be a well-fitted key to the club's 1953 American league success.

Mele was ordered by Richards to report with five pitchers to the club's El Centro, Calif., base on Feb. 15 for a head start on Spring conditioning.

As a matter of fact, Richards—announcing plans from his Waxahatchie, Tex., home—said he might even have Mele visit Hot Springs, Ark., Jan. 25 for a "running start" on his conditioning.

Mele, a long-ball hitter who is extremely useful at spacious Comiskey Park, now weighs around 191 and Richards would like to see him cavorting at 180.

Reporting early with Mele at El Centro will be hurlers Saul Rogovin, Joe Dobson, Marv Grissom, Chuck Stobbs and Harry Dorish. They'll work five days under coach Lum Harris getting their legs in shape and weight under control. Other pitchers and catchers will report about Feb. 20 and the balance of the squad on Feb. 25 or 26.

Native Dancer is the 14th unbeaten two-year-old champion since annual records were first kept in 1870.

Moore Fired as Cardinal Coach

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 11 (AP)—A shake-up in the St. Louis Cardinal coaching staff brought repercussions today with the little manager, Eddie Stanky, right in the thick of it.

Terry Moore, who became a Cardinal great in the old Gashouse days of the club, was fired as a coach at the beck of Stanky. And what Moore said about the little pepperpot was pointed and direct.

EDDIE STANKY
... The Boss

But Stanky—the National league manager of 1952—stood his ground.

"I exercised the manager's privilege of making a change in my coaching staff, why all the discussion," Stanky said at his home in Fairhope, Ala.

Back at the site of the upheaval, Moore reported that Stanky was temperamental unsuited to be a manager; that the job was too big for him. "When he loses a ball game he acts more like a nine-year-old boy than a man."

Through it all owner Fred Saigh remained unusually quiet about the stir caused by the little man whom he lifted into the managerial ranks last season. He was not reachable at home or at his office.

On the heels of Moore's ouster came word that another veteran coach, Clyde (Buzzy) Wares, was given his unconditional release by the Cardinals today. No reason was given.

This leaves the club with only two coaches—Mike Ryba and Johnny Riddle—the only holdovers from the regime of former Manager Eddie Dyer.

Moore's ouster was first announced by Saigh yesterday as a "temporary leave" at his own request to take care of outside business interests.

But the news leaked out. The 40-year-old Moore then told his story.

"I'M SORRY this leaked out. Not for Stanky's sake, but because I have only the friendliest feelings for Fred Saigh."

"It was okay with me when it was announced that I was taking a leave of absence to give my attention to my bowling alley business. But since someone has talked about the true situation I'll have to admit it."

Moore, who made a name for himself as one of the game's best defensive outfielders, said Saigh had offered him a job as manager of a Cardinal farm club or in the Cardinal office at the same salary he drew as a coach.

"I didn't feel that I could have given the job 100 percent service, which is the only way I'll work," he said. "I would have felt uncomfortable in any Cardinal job knowing that the manager of the club didn't want me around."

Moore, who operates a bowling alley here with his brother, Frank, a professional golfer, was a center field star for the Redbirds from 1935 through 1948 except for three war years. He coached two years under Eddie Dyer and one season under Marty Marion before working under Stanky last season.

Termed Monopolistic
By Network Head

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Dr. Allen B. DuMont, president of the Allen B. DuMont Laboratories, Inc., today charged the National Collegiate AA television committee is "conducting a monopolistic boycotting operation" in its restricted one-game-a-week program of football television.

Dr. DuMont yesterday asked permission of the heads of ten institutions to televise locally six games on Nov. 15 and 22 over stations of the DuMont network.

This request, which was not directed to the NCAA television committee, brought a reply from Robert Hall of Yale, the committee chairman, and Asa S. Bushnell, director of the college TV program, saying they were "amazed that the DuMont network should endeavor to break down a program with which the network is thoroughly familiar."

Several of the colleges already have rejected the request on the grounds that they will comply with the NCAA restrictions.

Today Dr. DuMont, describing the NCAA plan as a "monopolistic boycotting operation," said his network did not bid on the program for 1952 "because we are opposed to monopoly and because we believe the NCAA plan is illegal and against the public interest."

HE ADDED that his request had been directed to the institutions rather than the NCAA "because we believe that under our American system they should have the right to make their own decisions."

The games which Dr. DuMont had asked to televise were Princeton-Yale, Columbia-Navy and North Carolina State-Pittsburgh on Nov. 15 and Yale-Harvard, Virginia-Washington and Lee and Penn State-Pittsburgh on Nov. 22.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11 (AP)—A rematch for the heavyweight title between champion Rocky Marciano and Jersey Joe Walcott may be shifted to San Francisco's Kezar stadium for the afternoon of Feb. 22, Truman Gibson, International Boxing club secretary, said today.

Gibson also said the date of the welterweight championship bout between titlist Kid Gavilan and Chuck Davey has been changed to March 11 in Chicago stadium.

The Marciano-Walcott rematch had previously been proposed for Chicago stadium March 18. Gavilan-Davey had been scheduled Feb. 11.

Lafayette Coach Faces Rebuilding
Job on Cage Squad

EASTON, Nov. 11—Starting his second season as coach of the Lafayette college basketball team, Bill vanBredakolff, former New York Knicks' star, faces a thorough rebuilding job.

Four regulars of last year's Lafayette team which won 14 out of 25 have graduated. They include Pete Carril, who was on the Little All-American team, and Associated Press All-Pennsylvania team; Rudy Garritano, Gil Shor and Don Ziegler.

Among them are Marvin Kaulkin and Leon Miller, two tall centers who divided the pivot duty between them last year. Kaulkin, of Philadelphia is 6-6, and Miller, whose home is in Reading, is 6-5.

Other juniors who should make the varsity grade are Dick Weisenborn, of Cliffside Park, N. J.; Carry Ahl, of Carlisle; John Alviggi, of West Orange, N. J.; Donald Kouch, of West Hazleton, and Charles Eyer, of Emmaus.

A NUMBER of Sophomores also reported to vanBredakolff when practice was started last Monday. The Maroon five will play a 25-game schedule this season, as follows:

Bud Cleveland, Spring City (26-6 loss to Wilson): "Good ball game the first half then we fell apart the second . . . our blocking and tackling was poor and for the first time we suffered a morale let-down . . . we were outsize again . . . it would have been a ball game except for those three second half touchdowns on the same trap play."

Frank Schutz, Schwenksville (41-0 loss to Lower Merion): "We made every conceivable mistake . . . fullback Bill Stone wasn't there . . . no plausible excuse . . . tackle Ed Shepperd had a bad back . . . had to make changes on short notice . . . hauling 200-pound (Tom) Newrock out of the line weakened our line . . . we're in good shape now . . . Miles Robbins' ankle OK, Shepperd's back OK . . . been working hard, we'll see what we can do against Collegeville."

The professional opinions:

A Little Bit of All Right:

Bob McNelly, Royersford (12-6 over Upper Perk): "We had a tough time . . . our line had some snap, as you said . . . Alexander (Ford quarterback) was having trouble getting rid of the ball the backs were going by so fast . . . we just had a good day all around . . . something like that really makes you feel good . . . lost Swenson temporarily . . . may replace him with Hen Wojton, but I'd like to keep that boy around on defense . . . he really does a great job, doesn't he?" (That he does, Bob).

Charley Kasmerovitz, West Pottsgrove (26-18 over Collegeville): "They gave us a good scare . . . our offense came around after we had been down on it for a couple games . . . didn't do a thing the first half . . . my kids found themselves then . . . Strzelecki did as well as expected without much blocking . . . just bowled them over or carried three or four guys with him forward, backwards or sideways."

When It Rains, It Pours

Warren Guldin, Upper Perk assl. (12-6 loss to Royersford): "I think they were more 'up' than we were . . . their line won the ball game, that's no secret . . . they outplayed Bob Leberman in the end zone on us . . . we didn't hit as well as we

US CRITICIZES UN REDS FOR 'FAIRY TALES'

Russian Bloc Attacked For Distorting Truth on Aid Program

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 11 (AP)—The United States accused the Soviet bloc in the United Nations today of spreading "fairy tales" about American foreign economic aid.

US delegate Isador Lubin, speaking in the Assembly's economic committee, charged Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, White Russia and the Ukraine, with "maliciously" making false charges that the US sought to "enslave" other nations through its help.

Lubin said the Soviet delegate earlier, in debate on economic development of the world's retarded areas, "described our Point Four program as a weapon of American diplomacy."

"That charge was, for once, correct," Lubin said. "We are proud of this weapon. We are proud of the way our Point Four program has helped the people of Latin America, the Middle East, and Asia to improve their standards of living."

"We are proud of the way in which our Point Four program has contributed to the security and progress which are the goals of the United Nations. We intend to continue using this weapon to help build a better and more peaceful world."

LUBIN SAID ONE OF THE Soviet "fairy tales" told of "those terrible bogey men—the American monopolists" who were "interested only in the development of strategic raw materials."

Another, he said, was the charge that American Point Four aid was designed to "dominate" underdeveloped countries, "to obtain from them their strategic resources, and to gain other selfish ends."

In rebuttal Lubin said US Government statistics showed that in 1949 the ratio of earnings to capital for all direct United States investment abroad, excluding petroleum, was 12.4 percent.

The ratio of earnings to capital invested at home was 10.7 percent, Lubin said.

"In other words," he said, "the relatively greater risk involved in foreign investment, as compared with investment at home, was compensated by only about 1.7 percentage points. In 1950, this difference amounted to only 1.5 percentage points. In 1951, it was about four percentage points."

Lubin told of American private and Point Four aid in the fields of utilities, manufacturing, power, irrigation and other fields in the underdeveloped countries.

BETWEEN THE END OF 1949 and the end of 1951, he said, "American investment in manufacturing and distribution in the underdeveloped countries rose by about $25 million dollars, while the amount invested in petroleum increased by only 325 million dollars."

Lubin said another of the "fairy tales" told of the "wonderful accomplishments" in the Soviet sphere, accomplishments he said had compelled countries like Czechoslovakia and Poland to return to rationing of foods and other essentials.

Millions of Dead Fish Reported Off Florida

FORT MYERS, Fla., Nov. 11 (AP)—Millions of dead fish litter the waters for 10 miles off southwest Florida's Gulf coast, fishing boat skippers reported today.

Fears that the fish victims of a new "red tide"—the name coined for an infestation which took a heavy toll of fish in Florida waters several years ago—arose when residents of Sanibel island reported a dark-brown discoloration of the water off the island, with thousands of dead fish littering the beaches.

Capt. Gordon Ford of the shrimp boat Lucky Star said his craft plowed for miles among lifeless fish enroute from Campeche, Mexico, Monday night.

"They were packed solid 10 miles out," he told the Fort Myers News-Press. "They couldn't have been dead very long because they didn't smell as bad as they could."

Vishinsky Dims Hopes for Early Peace

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky (right), addressing the UN General Assembly in New York, blasts western hopes for an early Korean truce. He branded as "an ultimatum" the 21-power UN resolution calling on Communists to accept the principle of voluntary repatriation of war prisoners. Seated behind Vishinsky is Russia's Andrei Gromyko. At left Secretary of State Dean Acheson listens intently. In center British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden makes first appearance at the sessions.

Communist Meetings Trying to Eliminate Idealization of Past

MOSCOW, Nov. 11 (AP)—Communist party meetings all over the Soviet Union are bending great efforts at improving ideological work and eliminating such faults as "nationalistic concepts" and "idealization of the past."

Messages flooding in to the Moscow party press reveal that in every republic attention is being devoted to this work. Some recent developments:

In Alma Ata, capital of Kazakhstan, measures are being taken to eliminate "mistakes and distortions" in history, literature and art. Certain writers, dramatists, artists and historians in Kazakhstan "depart from the principle of party spirit and idealize the old times, turning away from modern themes," the report said.

The head of the Kazakh Union of Artists admitted that the art of the republic lags behind demands of the party, and that criticism and self criticism among artists was insufficiently developed.

At Yerevan, capital of Armenia, a dispatch said works of scholars indicated national concepts of the old bourgeois clerical Armenian historians and that historians and literary people fail to give a correction evaluation of individual phenomena in the spheres of social movement and social thought. The secretary of the Armenian Writers' Union said there were cases of suppression of criticism and "mutual glorification."

At Tiflis, capital of Georgia (Stalin's home state) speakers criticized poor party work in the field of ideology and in the field of control over the contents of books, newspapers, magazines and the work of scientific institutions. The secretary of the Georgian Writers' Union sharply criticized certain writers for "departing from modern themes to dig back into the deep past and idealize it."

Advantage Seesaws as ROKs, Reds Battle Savagely to Win Sniper Ridge

SEOUL, Korea, Wednesday, Nov. 12 (AP)—South Korean infantrymen in five hours of savage fighting today recaptured the crest of shell-ripped Sniper ridge from Reds who had pushed them off last night for the 13th time in 29 days.

Associated Press Correspondent John Randolph reported from the central front that the South Koreans won back the crest, Pinpoint hill. They were still battling the Reds fiercely just to the north of Pinpoint.

The South Korean attack began at dawn under a cloudy sky after an Allied softening up barrage.

Heavy fighting raged along a mile of front stretching along both sides of the north-south ridge.

In the first two hours, the ROKs regained some of their original positions northeast of Sniper ridge. They forged ahead also on the western flank.

But Chinese reinforcements spewed out of the maze of tunnels and caves at the northern end of Sniper and came to the aid of their embattled forces on Pinpoint hill. The South Koreans immediately threw in more reinforcement.

TWO HOURS LATER some 3000 troops were locked in furious combat for the crest.

About 1500 Chinese Reds drove the ROKs from Pinpoint Tuesday night, attacking behind a terrific artillery and mortar barrage.

It was the same sort of headlong attack that had virtually wrecked two Chinese armies—numbering up to 80,000 men—on the central front within a month.

But the Allies had lost the last gain they had made in a limited offensive they launched Oct. 14 for control of the ridges towering north of Kumhwa.

Last week the Reds recaptured neighboring Triangle Hill, Jane Russell Hill and "Little Sandy."

Then late Tuesday the fury of the Red counter offensive was directed at South Korean defenders of Pinpoint—highest point on Sniper ridge. The attack shoved the Allies back to their bases on the lower spurs of Sniper ridge.

The battle was fought in pitch darkness. A drizzling rain and lowering clouds around the height doused Allied flares and hampered air and artillery support.

THE REDS OPENED the attack with a mighty barrage. One US military adviser called it "the heaviest artillery concentration I have ever seen."

In the first few moments a thousand rounds of mixed artillery and mortar shells crashed down on the narrow crest of Sniper ridge.

The firing came from an estimated 150 or more Chinese guns. They had lain quiet during the preceding four days under a merciless pounding by Allied artillery and planes.

Two battalions of Chinese slammed into the ridge from the north, east and west.

Republic of Korea forces began withdrawing from the hill to positions on the outlying spurs of the ridge. In 12 previous withdrawals from Pinpoint, the South Koreans have always managed to cling to the spur positions.

In other battles along the 155-mile front, Allied troops inflicted an estimated 1244 casualties in heavy fighting from midnight Sunday until early Tuesday.

UNION OFFICIALS SET DEADLINE AT H-BOMB PLANT

More Picketing to Take Place if Technicians Aren't Re-Hired

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 11 (AP)—Union officials today set a Thursday morning deadline for a subcontractor at the Savannah river H-bomb plant to re-employ six technicians they charge were fired for union activity.

Striking technical workers withdrew their picket lines last night after snarling construction work at the vast atomic energy layout in Aiken county, South Carolina, 14 miles east of Augusta.

Officials of the American Federation of Technical Engineers (AFTE) met for two hours this afternoon with representatives of the Miller Electrical company, of Jacksonville, Fla.

Joseph Garvin of Philadelphia, a union official, said the union demanded that the discharged men be rehired and that a seven-man committee, including one impartial member, be set up to examine the company's case against each man.

"THE COMMITTEE would determine if it is necessary to discharge any of the men, and who, if any, should be discharged on the basis of seniority and ability," said Garvin.

The company had no comment on the union demands.

Garvin said Miller officials asked for another meeting on Thursday, but he added that since two meetings had already been held he didn't think another was necessary.

"I intend to call them Thursday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock, and if they have not agreed with our requests, we plan to re-establish our picket lines immediately."

Following the meeting, Miller officials remained in conference. W. A. Monihon, assistant to the project manager for the Dupont company, prime contractor for the installation, said the Miller company would not have a statement tonight.

Monihon attended the meeting as an observer. He took no part in the discussion.

Meanwhile, full-scale construction at the project was resumed about

Bullet-Riddled Bodies Found in Fancy Home

READING, Mass., Nov. 11 (AP)—The bullet-riddled, pajama-clad bodies of a prominent shoe manufacturing executive and his wife were found today apparently victims of a housebreaker surprised in their fashionable seven-room home.

O. Stanley Porter, 64, and his wife, Esther, 57, had been dead since Saturday night in a second-floor bedroom.

37,000 workers are being used to build the huge, H-bomb production plant, according to latest information from the Atomic Energy commission.

Garvin claimed yesterday that picket lines and road blockades shut down all work. An AEC statement said, however, that only "hundreds of workers" were delayed in getting to their jobs.
